

Slideshow

Share

D

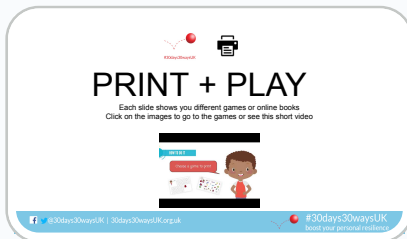

Fit

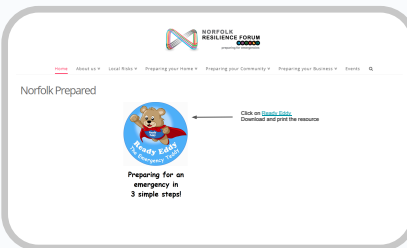

View only

1

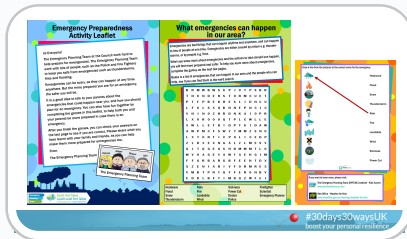

2

3

4

cornwall.gov.uk

Search (Use a keyword or phrase)

Go

Register | My Account

Community Safety Award

About the award

How it works and benefits

How to get involved

Leaders resources

The history of the award

Success so far

The Future

About the award

Select Language

Powered by Google Translate

Last updated: 03/09/2020

Print page

Email page

Subscribe

The Duke of Cornwall Community Safety Award was launched in 2012 and there are 3 awards to choose from depending on your age.

Find out what each badge is about below and what the requirements are to complete the activities to gain the award.

There is no requirement to register to take part in the award scheme, all of the materials and resources are available from this site.

Home Community Safety Award

The Home Community Safety Award is aimed for those aged between 5 - 10 years of age.

Upon completion of the award, the individual will be able to demonstrate how they can be prepared at home and react to emergencies.

There are nine activities; the first two are compulsory and you must complete another four to gain the award

Find out what the requirements are to gain the Home Community Safety Award

Neighbourhood Community Safety Award

The Neighbourhood Community Safety Award is aimed for those aged between 10 - 14 years of age.

Upon completion of the award, the individual will be able to demonstrate how they can assist within communities, such as checking on neighbours and vulnerable people and delivering information.

There are fifteen activities; the first three are compulsory and you must complete another five to gain the award.

Find out what the requirements are to gain the Neighbourhood Community Safety Award

Find out about the Duke of Cornwall Community Safety Awards (5 - 14 years)
click on the images, download and print the resources

The Duke of Cornwall Community Safety Award was developed to give young people in the UK the first opportunity to learn what to do in an emergency situation such as severe weather, a pandemic or long-term power cut. As well as teaching them to protect themselves, the process makes them think about how to prepare their families and vulnerable people in their local communities.