Team Selection

Tuggeranong Vikings Amateur Basketball Club (Vikings) looks to provide a transparent and fair process for both the selection of teams and subsequent management of player rosters through the seasons. This document outlines our approach to achieving this.

Selection Committees

The following table outlines the desired selection committees.

Team Composition

Vikings seek to ensure that team composition supports both performance in the upcoming season and development for the subsequent years. The following is our model for team composition for respective grades. This represents a model and Co-ordinators retain the ability to alter this for team or player requirements. Selected teams may also include Local Interchange (LI), Higher Age (HA), Development (DP) and Train On (TO) players. The definition of these, financial implications and training/playing implications of these types of players are included in a separate document on the Vikings website. Train On players will typically be lower age players preparing for the subsequent year.

Trials and Grading Sessions

Vikings teams are primarily chosen based on selection trials (Trials) or grading sessions (Grading). For clarity, Trials are where a group of players are competing for a limited number of positions (typically junior or senior premier league teams) as opposed to Gradings which are conducted for already registered players being grouped into appropriate teams.

Prior season Coaches are asked to complete a spreadsheet player assessment prior to Trials and Gradings. The selection committee may also take previous experience with players into account when making selection decisions.

Timing of Trials and Grading Sessions

Vikings primary Trials and Grading sessions will be run towards the end of Term 3 as players age up into the summer season. The following table outlines our approach to the Summer Season.

Vikings are supportive of Basketball ACT's current approach to minimise movement of players between summer and winter competitions. Vikings will not run club wide grading processes between summer and winter competitions. Vikings will run a closed JPL trial process between summer and winter seasons to ensure the best outcomes for athletes and the club. This Winter Trials process will be open to current Summer Open JPL players and Division 1 players. Coordinators have the option to offer individual invitations to players from divisions below Division 1. Players from outside the club may be offered the opportunity to attend trials if approved by BACT. Winter JPL coaches will attend the next lower age group JPL trials to assess players who may be offered a Train On position for Winter in their squad in preparation for the upcoming age up summer season.

Trials and Grading Approach

The following table outlines our approach to Summer season Trials and Grading.

For players on a waiting list to join a team, a single grading session may be conducted prior to the summer and winter seasons.

Communication of Trials or Grading Sessions

Gradings session information is typically communicated directly from the club registrar to the registered group of players and players who had registered in the previous season but are not currently registered.

Open Trials are communicated through flyers at the stadium, from the registrar to players who have registered interest, via Vikings Social Media and via word of mouth from Vikings Players.

Recognition of Vikings Experience

Vikings seeks to recognise previous experience with the club when conducting Trials and Gradings.

JPL Trials are conducted to select the best team possible. However, where there is a similar assessment between two players, previous experience with Vikings will be considered.

Priority of registration for the upcoming season is given in the following order:

1. registered players from the existing season,
2. siblings of registered players,
3. previous Vikings players, then
4. newly registering players

Player Attributes

Player attributes that Coaches look for at Trials and Grading include:

- Age and previous experience
- Basketball skills
- Decision making ability
- Suitability to likely played positions
- Athleticism
- Development potential
- Work Ethic: Makes effort during games and at training– e.g. works hard both offensive and defensive end of the court
- Coachability: a good listener and learner; do they follow instructions;
- Attitude: is the player a team player; do they have a positive attitude towards team mates; does the player bring a positive and focused attitude to training.

Players who are unhappy with their final selection may access a refund as per the club policy on the website.

Where the selection committee believes that there are not enough players to field a competitive team the club may choose not to place a team into the competition in that grade. In this instance, players will be notified as needed and, where possible, alternate options for the player will be suggested.
