AUDIT EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

An inspection of a 5,000 sf ft "Date" packinghouse in Indio, California. Year-round operation. The operation dry packs conventional and organic dates grown in their own orchards and from one outside local supplier. Observed freshly harvested dates dumped into intake line, cleaned over rotating polyester brush beds, sorted out for defects, and volume packed into 15-pound cartons. Dates are stored in a freezer until shipped. There is a spray bar for washing product charged with peracetic acid and was not observed in use on the day of the audit. Cartons were coded with pack date and traceability tag linking the dates to the orchard and packing house. There is a new line being tested that is not included in the scope of the audit, where dates will be packed into paper cups and run through a metal detector. The new line will be fully operational for the next audit cycle.
