

My daughter loves being with Becky and Richard. She settled in really quickly as she was very nervous at first. They have been fantastic with us over the past year. They are friendly, funny and great with the kids.

My children have only been going to Becky's for a couple of months, but they absolutely love it there. On our first visit they walked into the house and went off to play and I knew it would be home from home. Becky and Richard are both so lovely and welcoming, Becky does so much with the children and my two have settled so nicely in such a short time.

Becky and Richard have looked after our little one since he was 6 months old and they have really helped with his development and exploring new things. He smiles when he arrives at their front door every morning and he's so excited for his day there. I can go to work and not worry knowing he is in the best care.

So, I WOULD NOT recommend Becky and Richard - for the simple reason that my children prefer to be at their house and because I want them to always have space to bail me out!!!!!!.....So my real review Becky and Richard treat my girls like family. Nothing is too much and I would trust them with my life – they have become very special to us and I dread the day my girls think themselves too old to go to Becky's.

My boys have been coming to Becky and Richard for a few years now and it's such a home from home. Nothing is too much trouble and they are so accommodating, war, loving and welcoming to all the children in their care. My two really enjoy coming and often ask if it's a Becky day. There is always lots of fun and it takes a while to round them up at the end of the day as they don't want to leave! I can't think of anyone I'd rather look after them and always know they are so well looked after.

My daughter loves going to Becky and Richard's house. She has so much fun with them and all the other children and talks fondly of them. She's had some brilliant experiences with them, and I would highly recommend them.

When your child asks, "Am I going Becky's today?" and their response is a disappointed "aww!" when you say, "not today, it's the weekend", that's all you need to know.

Both my children love 'Becky days' and they always go off happy to be spending the day at hers and Richards house.

I wouldn't take them anywhere else, they're kind, loving, fun and have such fun days out. They are very accommodating if I need an extra day or am going to be late picking them up. I would highly recommend Becky's. Childminding to anyone looking for a childminder.

My two year old has been going to Becky and Richard for a year. She absolutely loves it and at weekends when we ask what she wants to do she invariably says, 'Go to Becky's.' I can't think of a more positive or reassuring answer for parents who work. My daughter has come on so much socially and the range of ages at Becky's has really benefitted her. She has had so much fun this past year and has learnt so much. I couldn't be happier with the choice we made with childcare.

Becky's childminding was recommended to me by a friend and my 18 month old son has been attending for 2 months now and has settled in lovely.

Becky and Richard provide a safe and stimulating environment, which has helped my son with his development. Both Becky and Richard are warm and welcoming and have been so accommodating in helping out with my 5 year old daughter also. She has enjoyed her time at Becky's and says it is so much fun. I would highly recommended Becky's childminders, as I walk away feeling happy and comforted to know ow my children are in a safe and well cared for environment.
