State Fair Schedule

September: Horses, School and Football

Jessica Milliman, Co-Director, KHC Region 1 (NW Ks)

It's September, that means its time for back to school shopping, Friday night football lights, back to school bonfires, and horses. Yes, our horse enthusiasts aren't slowing down. In fact it seems like they are just getting started. Northwest Kansas is known for its "small town atmosphere" and along with that comes the careful balancing act that includes school, town, and horse activities. Horse enthusiasts could be considered "the worlds best jugglers". You might just find them at a Friday night homecoming football game, a Saturday horse show, and a Sunday team roping, and that is all in just one weekend.

Check out all the events coming up!

Apollo

Meet "Apollo"

Apollo may be an Arabian-Thoroughbred cross. He is a gelding, 15.1 hands high, born in 1999. He came to Hope in the Valley in November 2011 after being abandoned on a busy road.

He did not appear to be broke when he came. He was sent for 30 days of training in March 2012. He's an intelligent horse who knows whether he can pull tricks on his rider.

Today Apollo is a beautiful horse who requires an experienced rider with a gentle hand.

The September 2013 featured rescue comes from the:

Hope in the Valley Equine Rescue.

This monthly feature provides contact details for a horse adoption in Kansas. Please contact the rescue or adoption service directly. Thanks!

If you ride in parades, compete at shows, trail ride or have friends ride your horses; it's your responsibility to maintain appropriate liability coverage.
