DANIELLE HARRIS-BRANCH

Danielle Harris-Branch, is a speaker, growth coach, image promoter, and author of the forthcoming book, From the Other Side of the Bed: Allow Faith to Transform Your Perspective Through Life's Hardest Blows. Danielle has lived through events that would have destroyed others. She is a double cancer survivor and was simultaneously healed of uterine and ovarian cancer and has also survived the battle against Steven Johnson's Syndrome, a rare condition that only affects every one in one million people. Danielle is also the recent widow of Delmar Branch, who endured 23 1/2 years of medical hardships with a smile. Her metamorphosis developed through life's painful blows and the recent death of her husband.

Her humor, transparency, expertise, and experience in coping with painful experiences encourage those who feel lost, hurting, and looking for a purpose to live with confidence and boldness, as she helps them re-imagine their lives.

This inspirational icon is also the founder of Global Girls Connect, executive director of R.E.A.C.H. Community Services, Inc., and owner of Image Promoters.

Danielle is an engaging and inspirational interview for audiences looking and needing encouragement, relationship tips, purpose, healing, hope, and those who want to strengthen their faith..
