Fox Point Foundation Donation

The Fox Point Police Department will be adding new equipment to their public safety tool box thanks to the generosity of the Fox Point Foundation. The Foundation donated two (2) FireTKO fire suppression units to the department for the front-line squads. The FireTKO units deploy a non-toxic aerosol when thrown into a confined fire space to suppress / extinguish the fire. The FireTKO does not replace the skills and experience of a firefighter, rather the unit is intended to help suppress the fire and prevent it from spreading.

With the danger a fire in the home poses today, the Foundation felt any tool that can save lives and reduce property damage would be useful to have on the road for rapid deployment. The police officers have received training from the manufacturer on the use of the FireTKO and will receive additional training from North Shore Fire Rescue personnel on the appropriate time to safely use the device.
