Pastor's Letter

Dear Parishioners,

Thank you for your generosity in last Sunday’s Mission Co-Operative collection. Our parishioners donated $5,501 to the Comboni Missionaries. This support helps the Comboni Fathers and Sisters carry out their work of making Christ known and loved.

Update on repairs: we are currently fixing the pews and kneelers in the church, many of which were damaged. The repairs and renovations continue in the rectory. This week I will meet with contractors about the new central heating and air conditioning system that will be installed in the rectory. The new system will be a heat pump system. This combined system will save the high costs associated with replacing the sixty-year-old broken boiler. The Archdiocesan building representative is working with me on this project.

We are also moving ahead with the repair of the organ following the accident in which a large organ pipe became detached from its frame and fell down into the church. We commissioned a study of the repair needs of the complete organ mechanism, and now we will get a preliminary estimate from an organ building company on how much this will cost.

I will be away on vacation from August 1-21. During my absence Fr. Jean Didier Sohotode will be in charge of the parish.

God bless you!

Fr. Gerald E. Murray
Pastor
