WIU Presents Next Theatre Production: "The Garbologists"

February 16th & 17th at 7:30pm
Simpkins Theatre

By: Brie Coder

Imagine living in a time where your weekly sanitary men and women - the ones who keep your streets clean and clear from excessive trash - are in the midst of an "Anything you can do, I can do better" argument. Does the battle get settled by the two sanitary workers? Will the garbage be handled with care, or will the argument lead to no work being done for the citizens who rely on these men and women to keep their streets tidied?

These pondering questions are what you can expect to be answered with certainty at Western Illinois University's next theatre production, "The Garbologists," this Friday and Saturday, February 16 and 17th, at 7:30 p.m., at Simpkins Theatre.

Written by Lindsay Joelle and directed by the 2023 - 2024 Rev. Dr. C.T. Vivian Diversity Scholar in Theatre & Dance recipient, Tamera Izlar, two different people from opposite scopes of the world have to join forces together in a nineteen-ton garbage truck and learn how to agree to disagree, or possibly, learn the art of acceptance.

"Danny's a white, blue-collar, New York City sanitation worker. Marlowe's the Black, ivy-educated newbie who just joined his route. Thrown together in the cab of a nineteen-ton garbage truck, they spend their first shifts sparing, one-upping each other, and practicing the secret art of mongo: hunting for discarded treasure. But as their lives become increasingly intertwined, these two essential workers from different worlds discover there's more that binds them than picking up the trash," as stated in the play's program.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

By Lucie Winborne

* Researchers have developed an algorithm that transforms complex data into musical sounds.

* In 2003, Marvel successfully argued in a U.S. court that mutants were "nonhuman creatures" and, therefore, toys, in order to save on taxes, since X-Men action figures were being imported as dolls but toys have a lower tariff.

* An ostrich can run faster than a horse.

* Seventy-five percent of Japanese homes boast a high-tech toilet, the latest models of which eliminate the need for toilet paper, keep you warm, check your blood pressure, play the sound of running water to, er, drown out your business, and automatically open and shut so you won't have to touch anything.

* Prior to the adoption of standard time zones in 1883, each city or town set its own local time based on the sun's position.

* Six years after Hall of Fame pitcher Gaylord Perry stated, "They'll put a man on the moon before I hit a home run," he struck the only one of his career just hours after Neil Armstrong stepped onto the lunar surface.

* Actor George Reeves, who played Superman in the 1950s, once had to deflect a young fan who wanted to test his "invulnerability" by bringing a pistol to a live appearance. Reeves convinced the boy to hand over his gun by warning him that a bystander might be hurt by bullets that bounced off his Superman suit.

* A 2018 study found that wearing a necktie can reduce the blood flow to your brain by up to 7.5%.

Thought for the Day: "Don't say you don't have enough time. You have exactly the same number of hours per day that were given to Helen Keller, Pasteur, Michelangelo, Mother Teresa, Leonardo da Vinci, Thomas Jefferson and Albert Einstein." -- H. Jackson Brown Jr.
