

FORMULA 144

Wastewater Oil & Grease Cleaning – Beyond Belief!

In a wastewater setting, it's not just the sludge that's the problem; it's also the food grease and oils. Many times, either harsh chemicals are used in the wastewater to try and break them up, which can be dangerous, or costly degreasers are purchased which may not even work, cutting into the budget but not fixing the issue. Sometimes the problem goes unseen until it clots up parts of the plant. And then there's ensuring that you're following EPA or FDA guidelines while trying to find an effective answer that won't waste money. It's a hassle that's awful, and one that is unnecessary.

At U.S. Ag Industrial, our CleanGreen® products bring safe and affordable solutions that always provide answers. And for wastewater grease, FORMULA 144 is the answer needed to get the job done. Whether it's digesting the grease and oil in a wastewater tank or breaking grease build-up found in sewer lines and drains, it works better than any leading competitor.

A fully biodegradable surfactant, FORMULA 144 is the most versatile and most effective industrial cleaner on the market. It does everything from cleaning digester tanks to treatment plant floors to cleaning and degreasing machines to even digesting oil spills or leaks from vehicles. Where other brands are ineffective, expensive, or harmful, ours cleans the best and is the safest. It's perfect for cleaning food grease clots from aerators, cleaning grease built up in sewer or leech lines, industrial power washing storage tanks, it can be used to wash vehicles and tools, and it can even be used to wash your hands. It's your best answer!

The way FORMULA 144 works is that it literally breaks down the obstacles on a molecular level. The colloidal micelles anatomize grease and oil quickly, turning them into a biomass, which is then washed off with water while fully biodegrading, erasing all traces of the problem.
