Interview: Hung Liu, July 1993: Richard Ulsh and Susan Davis

I am deeply delighted to live in a time where so many women are producing such beautiful, but sometimes the content is so horrible. So painful. But the way you paint is very beautiful. Several people at different times have told me, “Your work, your paintings, are very well done, very beautiful, but sometimes the content is so horrible. So painful. But the way you paint is very beautiful.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: What do you think is more important: the end result or the process? I think it’s healthier to open up.

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: The government is patriarchal still. I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.

HL: I think the Chinese men just hate to admit this history. Women are still not treated equally, but at least their feet are free. Most Chinese scholars of the past were male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.” There was a writer in male and they were very intelligent, but they never treated their women with any respect. I think it was Confucius who said, “Only women and little men you don’t want to deal with.”

HL: I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting. I think that kind of life is long and hard. I grew up in a small town in the countryside the whole summer and worked every day, painting, painting.