We are a small 501(c)3 nonprofit that seeks to foster community and inspire creative reuse through environmental stewardship, education and community programming, as well as building skills for the underserved, youth, and/or those in need in our community.

Our long-term goals are to provide meaningful volunteer opportunities that build nonprofit and business skills, foster a creative space for learning and collaboration, and reduce landfill waste by redirecting reusable materials to educators, students, artists, families, and community organizations.

Your generous contribution will have a lasting impact in our community.
