Take a glimpse along the way of the forgotten Mission Trails and passageway of centuries-old American history. The premiere edition of Alta California tours a 600-mile excursion reaching 24 founding landmarks along El Camino Real, to behold the images of the immense structures of grandeur and pioneer settlements, the 200-year-old Spanish mission churches from San Diego, Monterey, San Francisco, to Sonoma County... and premiere of 70 lost glass-plate images, unveiling a historic gallery collection, with true stories of the first settlements and structures in Alta California.

The Tour & Travel Media's Explorer Series begins along the Alta California mission trails to reveal newly rediscovered historical sepia-tone glass plate images recently brought to light. Discover the 'Lost Glass Plates' and the premiere of the latest Explorer Edition: Alta California, Touchstone to Architectural Heritage and Native Culture, and the full historical challenges of courage, endurance, conflict and ingenuity from the lives of California's indigenous Natives, and the establishment the Alta California colonies centuries ago. Restoring the cultural perspective, these images of the Spanish Missions sharply in contrast to the romantic narrative, views the author's odyssey of discovery at each Spanish Mission. Built by Native Americans at the beginning of California's founding history...in collaborative storytelling supports the unspoken Native voices of the historical California Golden State's past.
