FLORAL DESIGN AND SUPPLY

It can often be a very confusing adventure navigating your way through the information on what flowers are available for your wedding day, and you certainly wouldn't be the first bride-to-be to assume that your absolute favourite bloom MUST be available for your wedding day, because let's face it each and every wedding magazine that you buy features it on the front cover!

However depending on what date you have chosen to say 'I Do' available wedding blooms generally change for each month. More times than not a wedding date is in place and it can be overwhelming and often a little upsetting for brides-to-be to find out that their dream wedding flower isn't going to be available. It's important to do a little research before getting your heart set on certain wedding flowers, and talking to your floral designer is by far the best way to access accurate information on seasonality and available wedding flowers for your day.

Sometimes imported wedding flowers are also available, and certainly we are experiencing a lot more access to global flower lines, but whatever the bloom, wherever it grows, it still has a season, and while importing can seem like a valid option, it comes at an increased cost and still doesn't guarantee that you can access your must have wedding flower. Mother nature, regardless of the country, still reigns supreme with what blooms when, and for how long!

WEDDING FLOWERS SEASONALITY GUIDE

The good news is there are wonderfully beautiful wedding flowers available for each and every season, so regardless of what time of the year you choose to celebrate your love, we can assist you in planning for your wedding flowers and providing you with accurate knowledge and professional advice, as well as creating a unique floral concept of seasonal blooms for your beautiful day!

We have put together this wedding flower guide including some of the most popular wedding flowers. Certainly sometimes seasons can be extended and there are also some wedding flowers that can cross over into a couple of seasons, we have also listed the couple of most sought after flowers that can generally be available as imported lines in Australia. Import options need to be discussed with your floral designer, please note imports are subject to availability, and import processes and availability through seasons are not always the full entire period of time, with some import lines only available for 5-6 weeks. All import options need to be discussed for viability.
