English language and learning

Prospectus 2019

Welcome to The Campbell Institute

At Campbell students receive the very best of English language tuition as part of a highly rewarding student experience at our Wellington and Auckland campuses.

We are proud of Campbell's long history and reputation for delivering world-class academic learning in a caring and supportive environment. The original vision of our founders continues today with a great team of passionate teachers who care about all aspects of a student's education in New Zealand – academic, social and experience in and out of the classroom.

Our varied programmes are designed to suit all student levels, ages and interests, and include options for learning English as a pathway to university study, vocational study or with work options.

Our two campuses provide a welcoming environment where students thrive as they develop their English skills, make friends with fellow students from around the world and get unique opportunities to experience the best of New Zealand.

We look forward to welcoming new students to the Campbell family.

Nigel Smith
Director of Academic Operations

About us

With campuses in both New Zealand's capital city (Wellington) and largest city (Auckland), Campbell is perfectly positioned to deliver outstanding English language tuition to students with a range of study requirements from around the world.

Campbell's Wellington campus, located in the downtown business and government district, is the largest and longest-running English language school in the city. From 2019 Campbell will partner with Pearson to deliver online English Language testing at an onsite PTE Academic Testing centre.

Campbell's growing Auckland campus is situated in the city-fringe suburb of Newmarket. From 2019 Campbell will partner with IELTS to deliver online English language testing at the IELTS Test Centre located at our central city location at 345 Queen Street.

Campbell English programmes include General English, IELTS Exam Preparation and Cambridge Exam Preparation. We also offer non-IELTS pathways to New Zealand tertiary providers, such as foundation studies programmes for New Zealand universities (Victoria University of Wellington, the University of Auckland and AUT University).

Campbell students can also pathway to a wide range of courses at vocational colleges, e.g. Yoobee School of Design (for creative, design and IT programmes), NZMA and NSIA (for business, cookery and hospitality programmes), New Zealand Institute of Sport, and New Zealand School of Tourism.

All Campbell programmes are designed with successful student outcomes as the top priority. The variety of study options, the quality of our teachers and innovative teaching methods, the strong focus on student experience, and our central campus locations together make studying at Campbell the perfect choice for international students looking for a unique and richly rewarding experience.

Campbell Pathways

Campbell Pre-foundation

The Campbell Institute Wellington campus offers English language pathway programmes for students seeking direct entry into the Victoria University of Wellington Foundation Studies Programme.

The course is made up of 12 weeks of full-time study, concluding with a language proficiency test (ACGEELT – The ACG Education English Language Test). Passing this test allows students to directly enter the foundation programme offered at ACG Pathways Wellington campus without having to sit an external exam.

In Auckland, Campbell's partner school, ACG English School, offers a similar programme for direct entry into the AUT University and University of Auckland foundation programmes.

Campbell English + Work

Campbell Demi Au Pair Programme

For students who love working with children and looking for a cost-effective way to study and travel, this is the ideal programme. The programme combines English language study with living and working in a New Zealand home, primarily as a childcare provider.

A demi au pair works for up to 20 hours per week, helping with childcare and housework. In exchange, the family provides the demi au pair with full board (bedroom and meals), a weekly allowance and transport costs to and from school. While working as a demi au pair students can study for 15 or 20 hours per week, choosing from several English language course options, including General English, IELTS Exam Preparation or Cambridge Exam Preparation.

Participants should have childcare experience (e.g. babysitting, voluntary work) and general housework experience, and be able to provide evidence of a police check and childcare references.

For a full list of entry requirements, visit:

Campbell Barista Training

For those looking for a job in a New Zealand café, hotel or restaurant, having a barista certificate provides a strong advantage.

In Wellington, Campbell partners with Flight Coffee – one of New Zealand’s leading coffee companies – to offer students an industry-based qualification. Auckland-based students study at NSIA, part of the New Education Group of Colleges and one of New Zealand’s leading cookery and hospitality schools.

The course includes:

- Background knowledge of coffee
- The language of coffee
- Practical training on coffee machines in a café environment
- Communication skills in the workplace

The full range of Campbell English language course options can be taken alongside the Barista Training programme.

Campbell Teacher Training

Cambridge CELTA

The Cambridge CELTA (Cambridge Certificate in English Language Teaching to Adults) course is a practical English language teaching qualification suitable for native speakers of English, or non-native speakers with a very high level of English.

CELTA is a standardised course, so regardless of where in the world students study they cover the same syllabus and are assessed by the same criteria. It also means a CELTA pass is internationally recognised.

The course provides students with a mix of practical teaching experience, teaching methodology and practical classroom techniques. No previous teaching experience is required to apply so the course is popular with those with teaching experience but no formal qualification. Ideally, applicants will have studied at tertiary level prior to entry.

Campbell holds regular CELTA information evenings, and applications are processed as they are received.

The unique Campbell student experience

At Campbell we recognise that the best student experiences include not just a fantastic learning environment with great teachers but also the chance for students to have adventures — to try new activities, form friendships with fellow students, and get opportunities to enjoy everything New Zealand has to offer.

Our activities programmes include plenty of ways for students to have fun and try new things. Some activities are free while others require payment for entry, travel or accommodation. Students can also make special requests for activities they are particularly interested in. Activities are not just a great way for students to make friends, they're great for practising English too!

Campus activity coordinators arrange weekly events, such as Coffee and Conversation Club, Movie Night, Games Night, Running Club and Pub Night. They also arrange regular overnight and weekend activities, for example:

- Trips to hot pools and lakes
- Mountain/bush walks
- Horse-riding
- Farm visits
- Bungy jumping and sky-diving
- Sports days
