Dear Fellow Parishioners,

In today's liturgy, the Three Magi come from afar bearing gifts because they see the signs in the stars that a great king has just been born, great enough to warrant leaving their countries behind to see him and pay him homage. The very fact of their arrival is the sign of something even greater than the sign of the star.

Today's Gospel teaches us that the light of Christ extends further than we could ever imagine. The Three Magi represent all the peoples of the earth seeing that light in the distance — the distance of their situation, of their cultural differences — and heading toward it. In today's Second Reading, Paul recalls that all nations, not just Israel, would be able to benefit from the promises Our Lord has made through the Gospel.

Today's culture is plagued by people seeking a higher meaning to things in all the wrong places. They consult horoscopes, fortune tellers, Tarot cards, Ouija boards. They think they can wrest meaning out of higher mysterious forces. The Three Magi needed a little help understanding the prophecy to move forward. God has blessed us with his Church to help understand his will. Sometimes we need a little guidance to see that it may not be that God is not answering, but that we don't like what He is trying to say to us. Through His Word and His Church, Christ is our guiding star.

We believe God is the Creator of Heaven and earth, and He came in person to teach us and save us; we do not need gimmicks to understand God's will for our lives. He's already given us all the answers we need in Sacred Scripture. We just have to ask him.

Through His Word and His Church, Christ can be our guiding star. He has a plan for us as well. Pray, listen, and follow His lead and we will find a higher meaning.

Your servant in Christ, Deacon Martin

Please take your envelopes and religious calendars that are in the vestibule.

Pray for priests and for men to be open to God's call to the priesthood.
