Experienced and versatile editor who loves to bridge the gap between independent cinema and premium TV content. I love helping bring stories to the screen: be it an intimate portrait of a personality, a vivid account of an historical period through interviews and archival imagery, or an immersive experience into people's lives told vérité-style.

I cut documentaries, narrative films, trailers, music videos, and I'm never afraid to experiment with form. The mission is always to tell smart, genuine, heartfelt stories that will touch hearts and minds.
