A new One Year Plan has just been launched, and during these same 12 months we will commemorate the Centenary of the Ascension of 'Abdu'l-Bahá. Without a doubt, we will call to mind His summons to each of us to be unwavering in our faithfulness to the Covenant—manifesting this, among other ways, in our fidelity to the guidance of the Universal House of Justice and in our determination to prosecute with energy, focused attention, and to the last detail the current stage of the Divine Plan. Beyond this, we will remember His admonitions to us to strive to become the very embodiments of divine love to one another and towards all people, mindful that lines and boundaries of race, ethnicity, or class among members of the human family are imaginary and not in the Plan of God. We will certainly strive to reflect that love in our efforts to share the unifying Cause of God with the diverse people of our nation.
