A TESTAMENT TO RESILIENCE AND LOVE

Born and raised in the Bay Area, Andrea has made Dublin her family's home since moving from Fremont in 2017. As a dedicated caregiver through the IHSS (In Home Support Services) program since 2012, she has dedicated her life to her oldest son with Autism, all while raising two younger children. Despite the challenges of financial hardships, her son's Autism-related behaviors, and her own health struggles, she continues to press forward with courage and determination.

Being diagnosed with spinal stenosis after her youngest child was born changed her life dramatically. Maneuvering through life with physical limitations and caring for a toddler has tested Andrea physically and emotionally. Yet, her unwavering desire for her children to thrive and experience joy in a complex world keeps her moving forward. Andrea resolved not to let depression or hardship hold her back from “being the best version of myself that God has called me to be.”

Andrea first heard of Little Miracles from her social worker. Within days of reaching out for help, Little Miracles loaded her car with much appreciated necessities, bath toiletries, clothing, books, blankets, toys, and a car seat.

“I am incredibly grateful, especially since these are not inexpensive items, and with our current financial challenges, this support has been a true blessing.”

Andrea recalls the kindness shown to her and her children during her visit, “everyone at Little Miracles was so welcoming and made us feel at ease, even allowing our daughter to enjoy picking out additional items.”

Your generosity fuels our mission and brings comfort and hope to families in need.

As we look ahead to 2025, we are excited to continue this important work and expand our reach to serve even more families. With your ongoing support, we know we can make an even greater difference.

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for being a part of the Little Miracles family. Together, we are creating a brighter future, one ‘little miracle’ at a time.

Happy New Year!
