

The Left Hand Rule & The Right Hand Rule

The Left Hand Rule applies to DC (direct current) motors, during times where the current and the directions of the magnetic field are known ; the Left Hand Rule gives the resultant force's direction.

The Right Hand Rule applies to AC (alternating current) generators, during times where the forces and directions of the magnetic field are known ; the Right Hand Rule gives the induced current's direction.

