Jon Hackett
Pulpit Minister

I love this country, and I am excited to celebrate our nation's 250th birthday.

My patriotism is deeply personal. My second-great-grandfather, Lucious Hackett, served during the Civil War. Both of my grandfathers, Berkeley Hackett and Leonard Walker, served during World War II. My father, Jon Hackett, served in Vietnam. Other members of my family served in conflicts and service to this country stretching back to the Revolutionary War. Their sacrifices, along with the sacrifices of countless others, helped build, protect, and preserve the freedoms we enjoy today.

I love our Nation, our Constitution and the Bill of Rights. I am grateful for the freedoms they protect, the freedom to speak, worship, assemble, and live according to our convictions. We are truly blessed to be citizens of the United States.

America is not perfect, because no nation made up of imperfect people can be perfect. Still, we can acknowledge our nation's failures while remaining thankful for its blessings. Loving our country does not require us to ignore its problems. It should motivate us to serve, strengthen our communities, and help make our nation better.

As much as I love America, however, my highest loyalty belongs somewhere greater. My love for God is greater. My faith in Jesus Christ is deeper. My devotion to His Church comes first. America has given me earthly citizenship, but Christ has given me citizenship in Heaven. America offers precious freedoms, but Jesus offers even greater freedom, freedom from sin, guilt, and death.

I am proud to be an American, but first and foremost, I am proudest to be a citizen of the Kingdom of God. So, lets celebrate and be proud to live in such a great country, but lets be even more proud to be a part of the Kingdom of God.

Jon Hackett

Welcome to Lomax

Special Welcome to Our Guests!

We are glad to have you visiting with us today! You are welcome here.
We know you have a choice of where to worship, and you chose to be with us today — thank you.

At Lomax we want to be the church you read about in the Bible. Our goal is to glorify God with our worship and with our lives and to point people to Jesus Christ. If you need anything during the service, ushers in the lobby can direct you to the restrooms, or the nursery.

Scan this QR code with your phone camera to fill out an attendance card. We'd love to know you were here!
