Living with Reverence: Honoring God Every Day

Have you ever thought about what it really means to be reverent? It's one of those words we hear at church, but don't always talk about in everyday life. Simply put, reverence means showing deep respect for God—not just at church, but in every part of life.

Proverbs 1:7 says, “The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge.” That “fear” isn't about being scared of God—it's about having a deep respect and awe for who He is. When we truly understand how holy, powerful, and loving God is, it naturally changes how we think, speak, and act.

Sometimes, it's easy to slip into treating spiritual things casually. We rush through prayer, zone out during worship, or let God's Word collect dust. But Hebrews 12:28 reminds us to “worship God acceptably with reverence and awe.” That's not just about singing or listening—it's about bringing our whole hearts into every moment with Him. And reverence isn't just for Sundays. It's in the way we talk to others, how we handle our time, and the choices we make when no one's looking. Colossians 3:17 puts it perfectly: “Whatever you do... do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus.”

So here's something to think about: Are you living in a way that shows you respect and honor God? Not perfectly—we all fall short—but is that your aim?

Reverence isn't old-fashioned or stiff. It's a powerful, personal way of living that says, “God matters. He's worthy of my best.” When we live with that mindset, we grow in wisdom, peace, and closeness with Him.

Let's choose to honor Him—not just in church, but in everything we do.

BIBLE RESEARCH QUESTION:

After opening the eyes of the man blind from birth, what did Christ say about himself?

KNOW YOUR BIBLE

Boo's Belyeu

Due to time constraints, I could not write about the Freed-

Hardeman lectures until this week. While Jon and I discussed being exhausted, we had a great spiritual feast. You may think the spiritual feast was all about the lectures we heard and you would be right, but its more. You may think it would be the wonderful singing with a large number thundering their voices in the revamped auditorium you would be correct, but its more.

There is an emotional, spiritual connection to be with other Christians in fellowship. The handshakes, hugs, smiles, and greetings as Christians connecting in love the fellowship of traveling the same road with Jesus Christ our Lord. Revelation 19:9 "And the angel said to me, "Write this: Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb." And he said to me, "These are the true words of God."
