

Presents Interprofessional Education Day

Birth at the Sacred Threshold: Doulaship, Narrative Medicine, and Structural Accountability in Maternal Care

Join us for an experiential, embodied presentation exploring the role of doula work in Black and Indigenous maternal healthcare. Grounded in narrative medicine and spirituality, this session highlights how storytelling, cultural memory, and holistic practices are pathways to self and intergenerational healing in various care systems

Ssanyu Birigwa, M.S.

Narrative Medicine Clinician, Doula,
Lecturer, Columbia University, Co-
Founder & CEO, Narrative Bridge

Miniya Williams, M.S.

Narrative Medicine Practitioner
Founder, Facilitator, & Full Spectrum
Doula, Mind Body Soulstice

April 7, 2026

1:30-3:30 PM EST

Columbia University Irving Medical Center
VEC 401

104 Haven Ave, New York, NY 10032