Stewards of the Clock: A Biblical Philosophy of Time

MODULE 1

Name: _____

"Time is the medium in which obedience takes shape."

— Oliver O'Donovan

SECTION 1: MEMORY & REFLECTION

SECTION 1: MEMORY & REFLECTION

1. The Origin of Time: According to Genesis 1, is time an accident or a created reality? How does knowing that God "ordered" time change how you view a chaotic schedule?
2. Numbering Days: Read Psalm 90:10–12. Why does the author suggest that "numbering our days" leads to a heart of wisdom rather than a heart of fear?

SECTION 2: CHRONOS VS. KAIROS

SECTION 2: CHRONOS VS. KAIROS

Fill in the blanks based on the definitions provided in the study:

Feature Chronos Kairos

Question it asks:

How much time has passed?_____

Nature: Quantitative / Measurable_____

Focus: Daily labor and rest Decisive moments of faith_____

- Reflect: In your current season of life, are you more focused on the clock (Chronos) or are you looking for what God is doing now (Kairos)?

SECTION 3: THE STEWARDSHIP AUDIT

SECTION 3: THE STEWARDSHIP AUDIT

3. Ownership vs. Entrustment: We often say, "I don't have time." The text suggests this usually means, "I choose not to give time." List three areas of your weekly schedule. Do you treat these as "Private Property" or "Sacred Trust"?

- * Area 1: _____ (Property / Trust)
- * Area 2: _____ (Property / Trust)
- * Area 3: _____ (Property / Trust)

4. Redeeming the Moment: Ephesians 5:16 tells us to "buy back" the time because "the days are evil." What are the biggest "time-wasters" in your life that swallow your time into "moral futility" (e.g., social media, worry, procrastination)?

SECTION 4: COMMITMENT

SECTION 4: COMMITMENT

I will "consecrate" my time by:

- Practicing a Sabbath rest to acknowledge God as Lord of time.
- Dedicating my "Morning Watch" to the Spirit before the "Chronos" of the day begins.
- Asking "Does this reflect the will of Christ?" before committing to a new task.
