NICOLAS CAGE FAN DAY

With an intensity that draws you in and an American drawl like no other, not many can downplay Nicolas Cage in a scene. We've dedicated a "Fanomenal" TNT Fan Day to him. Known as one of the most versatile actors in Hollywood, he not only grew up in one of filmmaking's famed families but made his very own mark on the industry. This month we catch him as two different New Yorkers, one a cop who is short of cash and the other, a Wall Street winner. In Primal we find him in the role of Frank Walsh who poaches a rare jaguar in the Brazilian jungle. Naughty Nic! Join us as we lap up his excellent portrayals in these four feature films.

MASTER CLASS

Whether in real life or reflected in a script, the role of master and disciple runs side by side. Every action between these archetypes has a ripple effect that carries audiences through films. We've seen multiple movies where this special bond between mentor and student turns into great life lessons. These often tough and tense but breakthrough bonds are what this stunt focuses on as TNT pulls together unforgettable storylines with epic lines that live on over time! From "Nobody puts Baby in a corner" (Dirty Dancing) to "You take the Red Pill - you stay In Wonderland" (The Matrix) and "Anyone can lose one fight, anybody can lose once, you'll come back from this you'll be the champion of the world" (Million Dollar Baby), you'll not regret making it to this Master Class.
