

J.L. MANN HIGH SCHOOL
STUDENT COUNCIL

Dear Community Member,

This Fall the J.L. Mann Student Council and our remarkable student body will begin our week long annual fundraising campaign called Spirit Week. Every year, we attempt to conquer the impossible in the name of charity. This year, we have chosen Make a Wish of South Carolina in order to help the hundreds of kids facing critical illnesses in our state needing our support to fulfill their life-changing wishes. This powerful week serves as an opportunity to bring those in our community together to serve a greater purpose. Spirit Week encompasses a multitude of events for the J.L. Mann community to take part in to raise the most money possible and beat our rival school, Greenville High. With your help, we will be able to create an true impact for the wish kids in our community.

As a result of the circumstances faced around the world, there are hundreds of kids in jeopardy of losing their wishes in South Carolina, which bring so much strength in their fight to live. We are reaching out to you to ask if you could contribute to our spirit week with a sponsorship donation.

Your support cannot be underestimated as any amount can help change the lives of children facing daunting illnesses around our state. Even if you are not able to contribute in the form of a sponsorship, you can still help with the referral of other businesses or by donating to our silent auction. All donations are tax deductible and we can provide the relevant tax information upon a sponsorship or donation. Please see the back for the levels of sponsorship and its benefits. Your contributions make the world a better place.
