Due Process Institute Encourages Congress to Pass Four Bills in Honor of Second Chance Month

WASHINGTON, D.C. – April 1, 2020

In honor of Second Chance Month, the Due Process Institute announces its endorsement of the following pieces of bipartisan federal legislation:

- Prison to Proprietorship for Formerly Incarcerated Act (H.R. 5065) – would provide access to entrepreneurship training for those exiting our federal prison system
- Trafficking Survivors Relief Act of 2020 (S. 3240 / H.R. 3627) – would provide expungement of certain convictions for those who were victims of human trafficking
- Shift Back to Society Act of 2019 (H.R. 4253) – would create pilot educational programs for individuals in the reentry process
- Fair Hiring in Banking Act (S. 3441) – would reduce barriers to employment in the banking industry for qualified individuals who previously committed a non-violent crime

“April 2020 has been widely recognized as Second Chance Month. It provides us all with an opportunity to consider how we can help justice-involved community members acquire a true second chance to achieve their full potential in life,” said Shana-Tara O’Toole, President of Due Process Institute. “Congress has an opportunity this coming April to adopt several meaningful reforms that will have a positive impact in the lives of millions of Americans with a criminal record. Now, more than ever, we urge Congress to pass these four bipartisan supported reforms quickly to help those in need move on from the shadow of their past.”
