What are your BIG dreams?

Imagine your dreams as big as you can and without any limits.

What would you do if you knew you couldn't fail?

As an example, this is my writing dream. I use bullet points to help me record everything I desire from my writing.

- I want to be a recognized internationally as a bestseller in crime/mystery novels
- I want to write several sequels to my first novel, each with more success than the previous
- I want to have my books made into movies or a TV series
- I want my books to earn enough money to give me complete financial freedom
- I want to feel the excitement of seeing my books on the shelves of big book stores
- I want to meet people who've read my books and tell me they are excited to read the next book in the series
- I want to be invited to speak about my books on TV, radio, conferences, and other events
- I want to be accomplished enough that I can help support new writers in their dreams
- I want to sit in a theatre watching a movie based on my book and see peoples reactions to the story
- I want to live a life of travelling the world, writing, speaking and adventuring, all leveraged from my writing success
- I want my family to be proud of my writing achievements
- I want to prove myself to those who told me I couldn't succeed
- The act of writing gives me a sense of fulfillment, so, I want to be able to write every day as part of my lifestyle
