Turns out, his reading and writing were the issue all along.

Michael was never really the issue.

Michael is one of 30+ students who is on the right track with High Hopes. There are many more with labels like lazy, misbehaved, and stupid. But you know those labels are all wrong.

Each child is tutored with high-quality, individualized curriculum, a trained tutor. High Hopes tutors travel up to 150 miles to meet with students as many as 5 days a week. While each family pays a nominal fee of up to $55, the true expense is at least $79.

You can make sure every child gets the tutoring they need to succeed like Michael.

How many sessions will you provide?

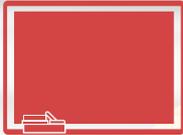

High Hopes tutors have sat across the desk of more than 30 students. We've changed the trajectory of each child, one session at a time.

Our tutors travel up to 150 miles to deliver tailored, individualized learning lessons. Students and families have 24/7 access to professional staff who screen for reading disabilities and offer support.

We train educators in our region to identify the signs and address the needs of students with reading disabilities. Together, we connect them with High Hopes tutors and services.

Our children graduate with the labels they deserve
