

In these uncertain times

Especially with us in the food service industry. I'm very happy to report some small good news.

Here at edgemaster we decided to get truly serious about our Knife Exchange program. I ordered 400 knife that are now in stock and ready.

Why is this so exciting? Because it turns out that just as people are concerned about contact with others I have a system in place to exchange my sharp knives quickly with your dull.

The way it works is I come as usual. Deliver sharp knives in the amount we agree upon. usually 10-20 knives in various styles. In 3 weeks I return with the Sharp replacements for these dull knives. If you prefer, we can exchange outside. What ever works the best for and you. It is my hope and prayer that you'll do a highly brisk delivery business right now but if were being realistic we know to expect some lost revinue. That's the other great news! I'm lowering the cost of my Rental knives by 25% to help keep things rolling for you. The last thing you need now is higher bills and pricing.

Lets beat this thing together and come out stronger on the otherside!
