

In February of 1909 the first Woman's Day event was celebrated in New York City. In 1975, during International Women's Year, the United Nations designated March 8th as International Women's Day, and it has been celebrated every year since then on that date.

The UN is, of course, a global enterprise, but there is hardly a continent that has not been reached by the caring souls of the Phillips Renner Foundation.

	In Davao City, Philippines a little girl in uniform leads the way to the appointments. You can just tell she's a future leader, maybe by her shoes.		In Fogo Island, Cabo Verde some children need a little help, a little reassurance, a little confidence - here thoughtfully given by Dr. Sima Khavaran.

Let's celebrate the contributions of the women of the Phillips Renner Foundation and their goal of providing high quality free dental care world-wide to the children who need it most. And let's meet some of them who contribute their time and energy.

Luisa Francesca of Fogo Island, Cabo Verde without whom we could not work there. A hotelier who goes out of her way and moves every stone on her/our path to help the children.	Here are two of our veteran heroes. Yena and Ellendale. They have the skills of a former NY prosecutor currently working for an environmental non-profit and a PRF board member, and a pediatric nurse practitioner. A very powerful pair to have in Davao City or anywhere.	Leader Purobi Phillips has her arm around Mweemba Mwiinga, our local organizer in Zambia. Mweemba tackles the government paperwork in Lusaka. She finds the neediest schools and communities and she makes everything possible.
