PONDERINGS

"Thanks be to God for His indescribable gift!" 2 Cor. 9:15

Thanks be to God for the indescribable gifts of our Choral Scholars!

The Music Ministry of our Congregation is second to none! From the Sunday morning Choir and ALIVE Band to the Handbells and Children's Choirs; from the incredible concerts to the yearly musicals; from instruments like the organ, to the guitars and drums, the talent level in our congregation is unsurpassed, and our songs lift up like incense before God!

Today, I would like to lift up two amazing people from within that ministry. If you have worshiped at Mt. Tabor any in the last 6 years, you have definitely heard the beautiful singing and experienced the deep meaningful worship led by Erin Hall and Bradley Miller. Others who have held these positions and led our worship of God in excellence have been Max and Olivia Witherell, Ben Hall, and Matthew Mayfield. While every one of our singers, musicians, choir members, band members, and bell ringers are deeply valued and are amazing gifts from God themselves, this particular article highlights our choral scholars and their contributions to our worship, congregation, and church. These young women and men have blessed us with their talents, aided the development of our current choirs and band, and pushed into new worship experiences where we have truly seen Christ. I don't think we can thank them enough for the work they put in, and for what they truly mean to our congregation.

Not only have these young professionals blessed us with sacred music within worship, they have recorded their work and allowed it to benefit our congregation. They have helped us experience Jesus inside and outside the walls of our church. They have taken time off their 9-5 jobs to be with us for funerals and weddings. They have taken leadership and planning roles within the choir and ALIVE! band, and most importantly, they have become a part of the life of the congregation at Mt. Tabor. It might have started out as a parttime job, but it has become a part of our lives and theirs, and Mt. Tabor will ever be grateful.

These two paid positions at Mt. Tabor are extremely important to the life of our congregation. These positions have been mostly funded through private donations within the congregation, and housed under the direction of the Music and Arts department of ministry. And while those private donations continue, we cannot assume they will be there forever. As a way of supporting this important ministry, December's Love Offering will be used to help undergird and support these positions for the future, and to make sure these exceptional people are with us for years to come. In December, I would like to invite you to give generously to the congregation and to this special project that we would like to see continue at Mt. Tabor. We all enjoy and benefit from these young professionals; your help will ensure that this ministry continues and even grows in the years to come.

Thank you Erin and Bradley for all you do! As you have been a blessing to us, may we always strive to be a blessing to you!

Happy Thanksgiving, Merry Christmas, and Happy New Year!

Pastor Wade

Positively Fit: Body, Mind and Soul

Positively Fit meets Monday and Thursday at 5:30 in room 121 until January when we will return to the assembly room. All ability levels are welcome! Variations to exercises are offered! and it's Free! Please join our group. If you have questions, please ask Tammy O'Quinn, Brennen Hutto or Carol Busbee.

Oh my! I just ate all those Christmas cookies! Can I exercise them off? We do this every year. We say we are going to be careful, but those cookies keep calling us back! They are so delicious that you can't eat just one! If the basic sugar cookie has 110-120 calories you could go for a 20 minute walk or an extra 20 minutes of yoga to work off that one cookie. But let's face it, we never eat just one! It's not just sugar cookies either. The beloved fruitcake with an approximate 320 calories per slice will take an hour or longer to walk off. However, a 3 inch square of peppermint bark will only take 50 minutes to walk off, as long as it is a thin piece of bark. Let's wash those goodies down with a cup of plain cocoa and add another 40 minutes to the walk. Who has an extra 2 or 3 hours in addition to your regular workout!

Here are a few tips to enjoy those baked goodies!

Eat like the French! They have less heart disease and are considered some of the healthiest people even though they drink red wine and eat croissants full of butter. However, they take their time and enjoy every bit. Just slow down when eating treats and savor every bit. Enjoy the flavors and don't gobble it down. It takes about 20 minutes for your brain to recognize that your tummy is full so eat slowly!

If you bake too much, share some with friends and neighbors, or simply put them in the freezer! They will taste just as good in March as they do in December!

Don't skip your regular meals or your exercise routine! Keep your regular routines. Include your regular exercises and workout routines as usual. You may want to take an extra walk if you are feeling full or over-stuffed.

Mix up your workouts! Changing up your exercises and/or workout routine. This can stimulate your energy levels in a different way and may burn a few extra calories.

Include strength training. Adding extra weight can engage the large muscles like your quads which burn more calories.

Make sure to move every day! Use an app to track your steps! Try to get in 8,000 to 10,000 steps per day. During the holidays you may find that you are getting in more steps while decorating the house, raking the leaves and/or doing fall chores. All movement counts!

So, how do I work off the sugar cookie? Don't worry about it! Just don't eat a plate of them! Enjoy a little bit and not the whole plate. Remember to exercise and move every day. Christmas is the time of year to enjoy friends and family. Don't blame yourself or dwell on an overindulgence. Embrace the love and happiness of Christmas!
