July Love Offering - Salvation Army

The Salvation Army, an international movement, is an evangelical part of the universal Christian Church. Its message is based on the Bible. Its ministry is motivated by the love of God. Its mission is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ and to meet human needs in His name without discrimination.

Pastoral Ponderings

“Keep watch over yourselves and over all the flock, of which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the church of God that he obtained with the blood of his own Son.”

~ Acts 20:28

How you talk about your church matters! People are listening. Folks are waiting to be invited. Some have made their minds up about who we are (or who we're not) according to how you speak about what goes on inside the walls of Mt. Tabor. Children are soaking in and making their lifelong impressions about the church based largely off what you say about it when you're at home. And many souls are either missed or saved by the words that come out of your mouths about 1000 B Ave.

We at Mt. Tabor have never pretended that we are or could be everything to everyone. We realize that we are not a good fit for some people's lives. We also have come to realize, while unfair, some people have based their whole opinion of the Church catholic around their experience with us. We aren't perfect, we aren't always at our best, and we aren't always everyone's cup of tea. But...

We are a lot to a lot of people. We are a beacon of light within a dark and sinful world. We are a witness to the power of confession and forgiveness. We are an inspiration of hope to many who need to know they haven't been forgotten. We might not be perfect but without a doubt, Mt. Tabor knows the One who is.

To everyone we have let down or fallen short of, we are sorry. To everyone who needs us, my hope and prayer is that we will be there for you. To each person whose heart is hurting, the presence of Christ in, with, and under each person of our congregation is another reminder that you are loved and never alone. And to each person trying to find their way, the beacon of light, love, and life is alive and well at 1000 B Avenue.

The way you talk about the Church, the way you talk about Mt. Tabor, is a witness to who we are, who we're called to be; and most importantly, who we can and will be with others invited to join us. Christ is here. The Spirit of God is on the loose, and God's people are ready to serve.

Thank you for being the Church! Thank you for spreading God's Word. Thank you for being God's hands, feet, and heart to a world that needs His love. Thank you for sharing your faith, loving God's people, and being the Mount Tabor that this world needs! Amen.

Mount Tabor,

It is very rare that I come across people as kind as you. I see it happen to other people, but never to me. Thank you so much for helping me with my light deposit. After a long time of being homeless, me and my child will finally be able to move into our own space. Words cannot express how grateful I am!

Thank you for everything!
~ JBH

Dear Tabor Family,

Words cannot express how blessed I feel. Thank you for the love, kindness and home I have at Mt. Tabor. I appreciate all the support and congratulations I have received over the past few months. Thank you for the generous Bachman Scholarship I received. The funds will help me financially as I begin my journey at Wofford College. The daily devotional is already in my "for school" stack. Please say a prayer for me on August 24th - this is move in day!

Love,
Tristan Spainhour

Positively Fit: Body

Positively Fit meets Monday and Thursday at 5:30 in room 121 at present until we return to the assembly room. All ability levels are welcome! Variations to exercises are offered!

Body:

Exercise may not be one of those things you are interested in doing but everyone wants good balance so they do not fall! Falls can cause broken bones, cuts and scrapes, or concussions. Your balance changes over time as we age. During your 30's to 40's we begin to lose muscle mass which affects balance. However, the good news is that we can improve balance at any age. Yoga and Tai Chi have been around for ages and that is because they improve balance. If you don't have time to grab a class, there are exercises you can do at home or work to keep you on your feet!

You may want to check your balance first. Try walking like you are on a tightrope for 10 or more steps to see if you are wobbly. Exercise over time will help straighten out the wobbles!

Standing knee bends are a starter. Stand behind a chair for support and bend your knee so that your foot is parallel with the floor and hold for 10 seconds. Continue the move on the same side for 10 to 15 times then switch to the other side. As you become stronger, use the chair whenever you feel wobbly.

Stuck in line! Try standing with your weight on one leg while lifting the other foot off the floor. Hold the stance for 30 seconds and repeat on the other side. You can do this at home or anywhere you are standing.

Got a long hallway at home? Try walking heel to toe for about 20 or more steps. Use the walls for support until you feel steady. After you are stronger, use the wall only when you feel wobbly.

Another hallway exercise is side-steps. Step (or slide) your feet sideways. Use the wall for support as you go down the hall and back. This will strengthen your hip and thigh muscles. Again, after you are stronger, use the wall only when you feel wobbly.

It's no secret that strong core muscles help keep good posture. The back of the legs are often overlooked as muscles for balance. Stand behind a chair and without bending your knee or pointing your toe, lift your leg and hold for several seconds then lower. Do 10 to 15 reps then repeat on the other side.

Using the same position, lift your leg straight back then bend at the knee (like you are kicking your bottom with your heel) and hold for several seconds. Continue for 10 to 15 times then repeat on the other side.

Keep that chair handy! Calf raises are easy to do. Stand with your feet shoulder width apart and raise up on your "tippy toes". Hold the movement at the top for several seconds then lower to the floor. Repeat 10 to 15 times. Take a few normal steps to rest then back to the chair for a second round.

Squats keep the quads (thigh muscles) strong. It is not one of the exercises that everyone loves but it is important. Start with a chair behind you if you are not use to exercising, bend your knees and push your bottom backwards like you are going to sit but don't sit down. Make sure your weight is centered in your heels on the floor. Your arms can be in front of you or resting on your thighs. Raise back up (without sitting) and repeat the movement 10 times. As your quads get stronger, try holding the squat position for a few seconds before raising up.

If you already exercise regularly, some of the exercises that you already do strengthen your core and improve balance. Check to see if your spine is in line. Stand against a wall to see if your tailbone, shoulder blades and head all touch the wall in a neutral position. Exercises for balance include the following but these are not all of them: stationary lunges, split squats, single leg deadlifts, high plank shoulder taps, bird dogs, curtsy lunges, standing oblique crunches, high knee lifts, and any core strengthening exercise.

Mind:

Yoga and Tai Chi can improve balance, however during the movements they focus on slow, controlled breathing. This time of thoughtful exercise improves balance while including meditation. Self-reflection connects the mind and soul offering many mental benefits. Today's world is fast paced and full of stress leaving little time for meditation. Unwinding with exercise has multifaceted mental and physical benefits that can be completed at home or anywhere!

Soul: 1 Corinthians 6:19-20

<sup>19</sup>Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; <sup>20</sup>you were bought at a price. Therefore, honor God with your body.
