From Our Vicar

Standing at the starting line, I wait to hear the shot that will signal that it's time to begin. Surrounded by others who also wait – most much younger than me – the anxiety hangs in the air like a heavy fog, limiting our sight allowing only a vague glimpse of the path that lies ahead. Nonetheless, we are eager to get started. We are eager to dip our toes into the waters of internship - eager to put the training of the last three years to use. Eager to prove that all the weeping and gnashing of teeth that accompanied the all too frequent late nights as we labored to meet the rigorous demands of our professors was worthwhile. All of us eager to cautiously dip our toes into unfamiliar waters testing the temperature before immersing our bodies completely. Then, finally we hear the sound of the gun and we are off – running in all different directions!

Such are the thoughts of a rising intern. Together with the excitement of finally getting the opportunity to put all that we have learned into practice, comes anxiety. Add to this, the fact that we began a journey to a place foreign to us during a pandemic and the anxiety multiplies. We dig deep to find the confidence that must be there somewhere! I cannot speak for the other interns with whom I began this journey, but as for me - I need not have worried. I have been at Mt. Tabor for two months now. Kindness, warmth, and acceptance greeted me at the door, before I even set foot into the building, from the people who I have been fortunate enough to meet. Each person has taught me something and shared with me a part of who they are. I know whose they are by their words and their actions – by their love and caring. This is you, Mt. Tabor. This is who you are – people of God – you who are running this race with me, who I know will pick me up if (when?) I fall, help brush me off, and set me back on my journey sharing your knowledge and offering encouragement and support along the way.

Thank you for making this beginning so easy. I look forward to the remaining ten months with you and to a time that I can say, I've run the good race with my brothers and sisters in Christ and I have not reached the finish line but I have been made ready for the longer distance. However, not too quickly. There's work and re-forming to be done. So right now, I will say I look forward to this time of growing into my call, my faith, and my relationships with you.

Vicar Gayle

Discipleship Ponderings & Fall Stewardship

We look around us and realize that the time is here. It's fall so days are shorter and the mornings are cooler, but as we know, nothing has been normal about this year, 2020. It is also the time of year that we reflect on our stewardship and especially our tithing for the coming year. Jesus talks about many things in the bible, but nothing more than money. Matthew 6:21 reminds us that "For where your treasure is, there will be your heart also." And in 2 Corinthians 9:6-7, we are told "He who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Let each man give according as he has determined in his heart; not grudgingly, or under compulsion; for God loves a cheerful giver." As you pray through the coming days and weeks for your own stewardship and tithes, remember what God has given to each of us. We give because God gave first. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life." (John 3:16)

Prayerfully I Walk

Time alone in an autumn wood,
I stroll on a mosaic carpet
of moist multicolored leaves-- rust brown, yellow, crimson.
I ponder the deep red patches,
scattered every step of my way.
Silently they speak of our Savior's redemptive, sacrificial blood--- blessing each pace on the path of life.
