

Mrs Abeba Mersha

Abeba has dedicated the majority of her adult life to helping people & communities elevate for the better. She has helped through many aspects from; education, to health & safety, to community development, to money management, to women empowerment and to creating interdependent relationships.

Her wealth of experience in the specificity of people has enabled her focusing to become a true community developer & organiser, but also a champion & voice for the people who desperately need it the most. She recognises value where she can most utilise every resource & intelligent tool at her disposal in order to not only reach those places where the value of a person has been neglected or forgotten, but to reinvest into that community & redevelop the people into a thriving, successful & unified community.

Abeba Mersha is the founder of FANOS Charity and was established in 1998. FANOS is dedicated to the investment & assistance of deprived & neglected children, young people, women, & families in Ethiopia & UK.

With previous long term plans of expansion on an international scale, she has set her sights on establishing positive changes. Starting with the youth, especially here in London, England. And with her experience, relationships, & unparalleled creativity, expertise & drive - she will undoubtedly execute this beautifully, along with the support of her team.

Abeba Mersha is a world changer & already successful & well documented community developer. She isn't finished yet but she has nonetheless already established a legacy that will be remembered, cherished, celebrated, & studied, for years to come.
