

Certificate of Good Faith Redaction Attempts

On penalty of perjury, I hereby certify having made two to five separate attempts per day to redact the contents of various documents and emails during the four day period from February 2, 2023 through February 5, 2023. I was unable to accomplish any further redactions after the afternoon of February 3, 2023 due to an on-going series of police powers hacks by Defendants which disrupted each and every attempt from then through an unsuccessful six hour effort on February 5, 2023. This hacking process was documented in the enclosed file Redact Attempts 230205, 15 pages, (similar to a few of the many other actual incidents as examples which are included in the Complaint) on February 5, 2023 on one of ten binders of emails, which is labeled as LP Evidentiary Exhibits pages 2122-2652. This form and pattern of hacking is consistent with other hacking processes described in the Complaint which predate the Complaint preparation period but have continued throughout the preparation of this Complaint. A strenuous effort was made to conform to the Court rules in this activity and in all other document preparation for presentation to the Court.

First failed emails redact attempt made on 2/2/23 followed successful email redacts on 2/2/23 and earlier for documents and disbursements on 1/18/23 and up through 2/2/23. Email redacts attempted on subsequent days between 2 and 5 times at different times each day after rebooting all failed consistently though at different steps in the process which involves selecting the type of information to be redacted, running the mark for redact algorithm, then applying the redact mark, then saving the file. Failures experienced progressively at each of these steps over the four days of attempts, ending Sunday 2/5/23, see below. When operating normally, this process requires about 3-4 minutes per redaction cycle. Three to four cycles per binder is about 15-20 minutes per binder times 10 binders, approximately 150-200 minutes, 4 hours at the absolute maximum. This note is being written in the fifth day of attempting to complete 9 of the ten binders of emails. The first set was completed within the expected time window on Thursday, after being combined from 2-3 pagers in 1855 files to 100-700 pages in each of ten binders on Thursday.

After successful redaction of two email binders in 3 to 4 step redaction process in less than 30 minutes each, the process has deteriorated through the police powers hacking process by Defendants to zero results in 6 hours on the fourth day of email redaction attempts across ten binders of emails for email addresses, social security numbers and account numbers, phone numbers, and birthdate.

I then check for updates to system, no updates required per message received. Acrobat Pro restarted and reopen the same binder for redaction attempt, to the following result:

This is typical of prior experiences, including a 14 hour printer recovery effort involving technical support for the printer several months ago which resulted in replacing the HP printer with the first non-HP printer I have ever owned, The printer was unplugged and stored so an HP technician will be able to identify the hack if it occurred on the printer, though it is more likely the hack was actually to the computer I still use, so the software hack was likely removed after the printer was replaced. Well, that is interesting. Shall we take this to the Federal Trade Commission or shall we review NJ state consumer protection laws on this? Which path would HP prefer?

Hi Dennis

Thank you for your email reply.
Your HP Instant Ink account is cancelled and problem status, we cannot issue a refund for overages on account that are cancelled and problem status. When an account is cancelled it does not fully cancel until the end of the current billing cycle which was June 26, so pages printed from May 26/2022 until June 25/2022 are counted and charged. There was an email sent on May 28/2022 letting you know that you have went over the available pages.

Have a wonderful day.
Thanks

Cindy – Thanks for your message. Despite several attempts, I was also unable to reach any customer support to resolve a complete inability to print even with store bought cartridges. I did talk to several people but got a complete run around from them. Copy of a chat transcript below for your review as an example of the type of interaction I had.

In order to get the needed documents delivered only 2 days late, I bought an Epson printer and will be using that going forward. No more HP despite 35 or so years using them and getting previously excellent print quality and support. Once you send me a notice that the balance has been written down to an appropriate amount, I will provide a credit card number to charge and return the unused ink.

It seems some intervening mail fraud and wire fraud may have been the reasons for these problems but I cannot be sure. In any event, the instant ink arrived late, then printing was disrupted, then I cancelled but was still charged at $1 per 10 pages after cancellation date, then I bought third party ink at Target and could not print at all, then HP support was bad. Invested around 14-16 hours to fix these issues, its simply not worth the time wasted, so I no longer use subscription ink nor provide direct internet access for printer updates. I have had this type pf problem episodically in the past as I've tried to communicate critical information and while simply doing normal office work, so that is the reason In think it is wire fraud at the root. It's consistent with pother police powers experiences from my life in general. Extra-legal, unconstitutional, but here we are.

Thanks,

Dennis Brewer

Hello Dennis,

Thank you for contacting HP Instant Ink support.

9:16 PM Connected to Instant Chat 9:16 PM Lester: Hi! Thank you for patiently waiting on the line. Welcome to HP Instant Ink Live Chat Support. My name is Lester, and I'll be working with you today to resolve your issue. How are you doing today? 9:16 PM Dennis Brewer: Billing dispute - requesting credit to reflect level of actual printing 9:17 PM Dennis Brewer: Printed 923 pages on 99 cent plan, please adjust billed amount to the closest relevant plan so I can arrange valid credit card to pay off 9:18 PM Lester: I have read the concern above, to confirm, you need help with the recent charged, right? 9:18 PM Dennis Brewer: Need this task completed as soon as possible so I can resume printing. Have relevant and important information to pass to contact in US Attorney's office asap. Thanks. 9:18 PM Dennis Brewer: yes 9:19 PM Lester: Before we proceed, kindly review these disclaimers for your convenience and security: • DO NOT SEND YOUR CREDIT CARD INFORMATION VIA CHAT OR EMAIL (for security purposes). • If our chat session disconnects, kindly go to this address to start a new chat session: <https://instantink.hpconnected.com/chat> 9:19 PM Dennis Brewer: no problem i will change cards in your web app once credit is applied 9:20 PM Lester: Also, this is your case number for this chat 5087671329 in case we get disconnected kindly contact us back with the same case number and please check your email, I'll send our chat summary so we can continue where we left off. 9:20 PM Lester: While we are working on this together, just want to make sure everything will be rectified. Do you have any other concerns or feedback that you would like us to address 9:20 PM Dennis Brewer: thank you 9:21 PM Dennis Brewer: no other issues at this time thanks 9:21 PM Lester: I hope that you don't mind me asking, what makes you opt out on the service, what happened? 9:23 PM Dennis Brewer: please address the issue at hand the issuance of a billing credit.00 - Cancelled as ink failed to arrive on time but i needed a small print job so i reenrolled to complete that task, cancelled again, then printed the further pages mentioned 9:25 PM Lester: Thank you, first let me explain how our program works. With the instant ink program, inks are actually free, we will automatically send you ink replenishments once your printer notifies our system that you're already low on ink. The $0.99 monthly subscription that you are paying is for the 10 page print out allocation that you have monthly. If you need additional pages, they are automatically provided in a set of 10 pages for only $1. A printed page counts the same whether it's black and white, a color document or a photo. 9:26 PM Lester: I know that you're on the 10 pages plan however you received email notifications that you need to upgrade your plan 9:27 PM Dennis Brewer: I understand the program. I was enrolled for years. ADDRESS THE BILLING ISSUE - do not waste further time on other matters. Thank you. 9:27 PM Lester: Also I see our system trying to attempt a charge. However it didn't go through because of a card declined. To fix you just need to update the payment information on the account to re run the pending charge 98.08 charge.. 9:31 PM Dennis Brewer: That is not the amount shown on the billing page it is 91.99 on my billing page. Finally, if you fail to address the issue at hand and do not provide proper support for the request at hand, I will need to know your full legal name and your country of residence, and request you to escalate this matter to your supervisor as you are interfering in the course of a likely criminal investigation in the United states. Are we clear on this matter? What course of action do you intend to undertake. Thanks. 9:38 PM Lester: Thanks for waiting Dennis, I really understand what you feel now about the pending charged. I know that you need print, however your subscription is already unsubscribed thats the reason why you can't print. 9:38 PM Lester: It seems you're aware on the pages printed right? 9:40 PM Dennis Brewer: DEAL WITH THE REQUIRED BILLING CREDIT so you are not involved in an obstruction. Your superiors will not support you in this matter. Kindly provide information about how I may escalate this matter. Thank you. 9:43 PM Lester: Yes, I know that Dennis, no worries I can help you on your billing 9:44 PM Dennis Brewer: Please do so now, do not divert to other matters, complete the task at hand 9:44 PM Lester: First you need to settle the pending charged, once settle we can make some adjustment on the payment. 9:46 PM Lester: As much as I want to make some adjustment on the charged, we need to settle it first so make some adjustment. 9:46 PM Dennis Brewer: No possibility of that, the credit is to be provided immediately so that I may continue with the important work at hand. There is no alternative path to complete the handling of this dispute. So far, this HP cutout process by your team has cost another hour this morning. You are continuing to engage in obstruction. 9:55 PM Lester: I know what you feel Dennis, regarding on this matter, kindly stay online for me as I check the account thoroughly and see what I can do for you. kindly give me 2-3 minutes. 9:56 PM Dennis Brewer: Well, okay, I would point out that it has been 9 minutes since your last reply anyway. Apparently very busy or is there some other agenda here? Thanks. 10:00 PM Lester: Thanks for waiting, checking on your account that for us to make some refund, you need to settle the pending charged. I cannot make a refund once the account is in problem status, Just a heads up that we cannot promise for a full refund. 10:03 PM Dennis Brewer: Not looking for a full refund. Your $24.99 plan for 700 pages and $1 per 15 added pages would be fine. I also believe there was a $49.99 unlimited plan shown at one point though I cannot currently find that plan on the website you furnish as part of this cutout process. Thanks. 10:07 PM Lester: Yes we have the 700 page plan, however you need to settle the previous charged so you can enroll the printer under plan new plan 10:10 PM Dennis Brewer: A credit is required on the prior charges as part of this remedy. If you fail to do so, the company will collect on none of its charge as the entire amount is disputed except for 99 cents as I printed those pages after my online cancellation. Are we clear on this? Do you wish to proceed with a credit immediately? Or would you prefer to escalate the matter internally? Kindly let me know in your next communication so we do not waste further time on this relatively trivial matter. Thanks. 10:15 PM Lester: I really understand you Dennis, for this kindly stay on the line while I connect you to my supervisor. 10:16 PM Transferring session to AM_en_CONV_CloudSupervisor_TR 10:17 PM Connecting to: <http://rsc-bwww14-01.logmeinrescue.com:443> 10:17 PM

Connected to Instant Chat 10:17 PM Selena: Thank you for contacting HP Instant Ink Live Chat Support, we are currently working continuously to improve the way we provide support to our customers during these difficult times. I appreciate your patience waiting online, let me take care of your concern and provide the best resolution for you. My name is Selena, one of the Supervisors of HP Instant Ink and I'll be working with you today to resolve your concern. How is your day going? 10:19 PM Dennis Brewer: Good, thanks. Please reference my prior conversation with Lester regarding my request for a bill credit and we can proceed from there. 10:20 PM Selena: I see, thank you for letting me know Dennis. 10:20 PM Dennis Brewer: sure 10:21 PM Selena: Upon checking here on the account, it appears here that we are not able to charge the account, 10:21 PM Selena: so basically the charge is still on a pending state. 10:22 PM Selena: I highly suggest to update your payment information so that the payment will go through. 10:26 PM Dennis Brewer: Correct, once a credit is put through I will pay the balance we agree upon. I reference you again to my previous conversation with Lester. My bill credit conversation remains unanswered after an hour and 45 minutes. This kind of "support" is not characteristic of typical customer support rendered by HP or most other corporations when the task is undertaken internally. Among other thing, they know it costs them revenue, customer goodwill, and upwards of $60 per hour to complete this kind of support activity, so they do not expend their resources in this ridiculous manner on a $40 to $50 dispute. I am engaged in communicating with the US Attorney's Office Criminal Division. This ridiculous process is holding up that communication and in certain circumstances can be charged as obstruction by their decision, not mine. Let me know how you would like to proceed. Thanks. 10:27 PM Dennis Brewer: A bill credit is required, then I will pay the balance agreed. Thanks. 10:28 PM Dennis Brewer: To be perfectly clear, I went online and cancelled well before the end of the billing period in question. The vast majority of pages were printed AFTER cancellation. That is the reason for the credit request. 10:29 PM Selena: I know how it feels like. Rest assured that our quality team and management will review your previous calls and will do proper actions to prevent it from happening again. And I'd like to thank you for bringing this up to our attention. We will also document this feedback for our Product Team to improve the website and overall service. Our main goal here in HP is not just to resolve technical issues, but also to improve the products, service and support through feedback from our valued customers. 10:29 PM Selena: We are not able to provide any refund right now Dennis since you haven't receive the charge yet, 10:29 PM Selena: so here's what I can do for you, 10:29 PM Dennis Brewer: Great, so what is your proposed and immediate solution in this matter? 10:30 PM Selena: I will escalate the case to the higher department so that they can provide a concrete resolution. How's that sound? 10:30 PM Dennis Brewer: Fine, not adequate to the moment, but please proceed. 10:30 PM Selena: Thank you Dennis, we really appreciate your time and effort with this matter. 10:31 PM Selena: Can I have your best contact number and the best time to call you? 10:32 PM Dennis Brewer: I wish I could assure you of a mutual feeling, but I cannot. This is and has been a most unsatisfactory experience and greatly diminished my prior enthusiasm for HP which has been defamed and had its business adversely affected through this malicious cutout process. 10:32 PM Saving chat transcript 10:34 PM Selena: I hope you understand that we do have limitations and won't take it against us. 10:34 PM Selena: Rest assured that we will forward this to the higher department. 10:36 PM Dennis Brewer: Please advise your next steps and send me an email with this complete chat transcript chat 5087671329 and your proposed course of action and timing as we conclude this chat. My email address is dsbrewer923@hotmail.com Thanks. 10:36 PM Dennis Brewer: proposed 10:36 PM Selena: You will receive an email or call regards with this matter. 10:36 PM Selena: Can I have your best contact number and the best time to call you? 10:38 PM Dennis Brewer: please use email as that is preferred. 201-887-6541, available between 8am and noon EDT 10:39 PM Selena: Sure thing Dennis. 10:39 PM Dennis Brewer: An emailed transcript is required 10:39 PM Selena: Is there anything else that I can do for you? 10:39 PM Selena: Yes I will definitely send an email with this chat transcript.

OTHER OBSTRUCTIONS DURING COMPLAINT PREPARATIONS -AFFIDAVIT

Printing obstructions – black ink purchased for approximately 18,000 pages of printing at rated capacity. Black ink hacked as of Monday, 2/6/23 about 8:30AM. Ink supply was purchased at an approximate cost of $500-$550, fully adequate to complete entire print job as specifically instructed by Clerk’s office as only “practical” method for filing my in forma pauperis pro se Complaint, two Motions and Proposed Orders, and 11,700 pages of exhibits, including approximately 10,000 pages which directly evidence predicate acts under 18 USC § 1962 (RICO), other 18 USC, and 42 USC injuries. I do not have the funds available to purchase a supply of blue ink, then a supply of yellow ink, then a supply of magenta ink, each at the cost of $500, whereupon that ink color would be hacked in my printer by these Defendants using their police powers, so there is no practical solution to their abuses and misconduct to functionally obstruct justice.

Paper supply – Approximately 18,000 page supply of paper purchased for printing. Printer hack prevented the use of this paper supply purchased at an approximate cost of $200.

Printing obstruction evidence between 2/6/2023 and 2/13/2023 are filed herewith on paper and includes video evidence collected each day during this period and available on my personal cell phone.

Separate documents and accompanying affidavits evidence other obstructions of evidence by these Defendants, including likely manipulations of address information to prevent or preclude service of process, to provide improper legal citation (specifically including, without limitation, evidence of possible war crimes under the Geneva Convention in the aftermath of the global declaration of Congress which authorized military force on September 18, 2001), to prevent email communications with neuroscience experts at various research universities and institutions critical to developing expert testimony and affidavits directly relevant to this Complaint, among other interferences and obstructions of the preparation of this Complaint, of predicate acts, and of other injuries.

Submitted under penalty of perjury as true, accurate, and correct.
