Re: REVISED NOTICE OF DUTY TO PRESERVE EVIDENCE

Good day:

Dennis Sheldon Brewer has filed a lawsuit against various federal, state, and local law enforcement and intelligence agencies. Bank of America was used by me as a primary checking account and a credit card for varying periods of time between July 2007 and December 2018. My personal accounts were under the name Dennis Brewer and were opened while I lived in Cliffside Park. This notice also extends to Plaintiff's role as primary owner, officer, and shareholder of WinnettOrganics, Inc. and Winnett Perico, Inc., during the same time period.

Personal accounts were opened while I was in Cliffside Park, New Jersey between July 2007 and October 2010 at the local branch and/or online. The personal credit card account was closed before October 2010 while I lived in Cliffside Park, New Jersey and after my credit insurance was cancelled by a B of A subsidiary.

My personal checking account and the WinnettOrganics, Inc., or Winnett Perico, Inc., checking account(s) were closed by the Bank under adverse circumstances as a result of large denomination fraudulent checks deposited by me or on my behalf, without my knowledge of their fraudulent nature, in the business and personal accounts while I resided in Ramsey, New Jersey between April 2011 and November 2018. These checks were each in excess of $100,000 to the best of my recollection. At least one of these checks ostensibly originated from a business checking account in eastern Canada. I am unable to recall the origin of the other check which resulted in an account closure.

One of these fraudulent checks was deposited in the early morning hours at a branch in New York City by an unknown third party using my personal identifying information at an ATM with teller assistance. If video evidence of this specific transaction which occurred within the two weeks prior to the accounts' closure is still available, it must be preserved as well. It is highly probable this deposit was made by an undercover member of a police powers operation and is critical evidence to my federal court Complaint and trial. Additional personal and corporate identifying information is included at the end of this letter.

Any correspondence in any form with any law enforcement or police powers organizations and operations related to these accounts and/or transfers thereto and therefrom must also be preserved, as well as any internal correspondence in any form regarding my account, transfers, and any interactions with law enforcement police powers organizations and operations related thereto.

The preservation of all documents for the duration of the litigation or until you are notified in writing you are not subject to this litigation is required under federal law and the Rules of Civil Procedure of the US District Court.

Pursuant to the federal Rules of Civil Procedure, every party to a lawsuit has a duty to preserve all evidence which could be relevant to the suit. This includes the duty to preserve all electronic and paper-based evidence, such as notes, emails, communication logs, recordings, plans, analyses, and other relevant materials discussing the incidents or related to matters at issue in the suit. The suit contemplates a broad and durable set of civil rights violations, constitutional rights violations, wrongful process, conduct not permitted under Article I Section 8 of the Constitution, and eminent domain violations. Statutes cited or to be cited in conjunction with the contemplated federal Complaint include the Klu Klux Klan Act, civil RICO, and FTCA.

This duty to preserve evidence is broad and extends to all documents, regardless of whether the document is stored electronically (such as email) or in hard-copy and regardless of the type of document. For example, reports, spreadsheets, photographs, and videotapes are all considered documents that must be preserved. Furthermore, the duty to preserve this documentary evidence extends to all documents in existence as of the time you reasonably anticipated this litigation. This Notice covers information retained on all computers, servers, server back-up systems, CDs, tapes, PDAs, cell phones, and any other device on which information may be stored electronically.

To avoid civil or criminal sanctions by the Court, ensure that all relevant documents are preserved, and no alterations are allowed. Communicate directly with all employees who have possession or control of potentially relevant evidence, including but not limited to personnel who deal with email retention, deletion, and archiving. Advise each of these employees to preserve any relevant documents in their custody. Furthermore, advise all such persons that any regularly scheduled and/or automatic deletion of email or other electronic documents must be discontinued with respect to any relevant data. In addition, any document destruction (such as shredding of documents) must cease with respect to any relevant documents. All relevant documents, both electronic and paper, must be preserved for the duration of this litigation.
