

11/29/12 I don't think they're going to give me a trip. I don't know. What do you think? I think you are nothing but a complete waste of space on this planet. I think the planet and the world and everyone in the world would be much better off without you in it. Not only that, it would be a relief for you if you were dead because no matter how hard you try, no matter how good you try to be, no matter how much respect you try to give other people, your life will always be nothing but HELL! This is a fact. This society was designed to crush your spirit, to tarnish your soul. It will not work. You will resist. You will not be defeated. However, you will not win, either. You will have no effect on this society. You will make no difference in this world. You are useless. And you can look forward to nothing but continued suffering. Why do we think it'll be a good idea to come down here? It's all just suffering, suffering, suffering. Pain, boredom. Hell, others. God, dead. No altruism. Never an unselfish deed. Social Darwinism. Survival of the fittest. As soon as you have the power to survive when others do not, pain, boredom. Therefore, the earth is your plaything. Destroy the earth, manipulate the people, crush their spirits, drown their souls. They're just meat sacks anyway. Chattel. Bags of mostly water.

We have such a wondrous possibility. Why do we squander it? Why the fuck do we have such big brains and this thread of consciousness when we waste it on manipulation, power, control? This is what life is, right? Don't bother being a utopianist, be a realist for god's sake. What the fuck use is being born in analytic philosophy-land if you don't simply realize the best you can do is to use that brain to recognize the design and operation of the system so that you can manipulate it and rise up from the bottom of the heap. You think thinking you are a wannabe-do-gooder is ever really going to get you anywhere? It's not. You are NEVER gonna get anywhere, you're never going to accomplish anything and you are too much of a pussy to off yourself when you know that's the only thing that would really make anything better. Hope. Why the fuck do you have hope? You don't deserve to have hope. But that's the funny thing about hope, right? They found that the human capacity to hope overrides all logic and reason. Naturally. 'Cause if we thought about it logically we would conclude that all hope is really nothing more than self-delusion.

12/03/12 Another day, another dime. Hey brother, can u spare the time? Bureaucracy. Hard to spell, harder to deal with. Hey, did you give it your best effort? Excellent. No good deed goes unpunished.

6/22/14

Another, anything.

1/23/16

Right?
