THE QUEST FOR 10X GROWTH

A Lord of the Rings inspired Business Adventure

THE QUEST AHEAD

You find yourself in a dense forest of business challenges. The path you've been following has become overgrown and unclear. Each day, you push forward, battling through brambles of daily operations and fending off the goblins of market pressures. Yet, as night falls, you realize you're back where you started, unsure of your progress or direction.

This cycle repeats, day after day. The quest for growth feels endless and directionless.

Then, one fateful day, you stumble upon an old wooden signpost. An arrow-shaped sign points down a straight, well-maintained path. The sign reads "Purpose 1.0," pointing to the town of Purpose, while underneath it it mysteriously states "PCI 2.0." The path, though clear, disappears into a dark, foreboding forest. Another arrow shaped sign points back the way you came, reading "Home 0.2."

Etched on the post are the words: Get to Purpose. Continue the Adventure.

As you ponder this discovery, you notice a folded parchment pinned to the post. Unfolding it reveals a note titled The Quest for 10x Growth and beneath it, an intriguing map labeled "POST":

Exhausted and low on supplies, you face a crucial decision. What will you do?

1. Return to camp and come back refreshed tomorrow.
2. Begin down the path alone.
3. Assemble a fellowship of adventurers and begin the quest together.
