Wednesday.

Hello Jack -

How have you been these days? I was kind of sick last week & was in bed all day Sunday. Had a bad cold. I'm a lot better tho now. Working every day.

Jack did you get mom's letter. I'll bet you were surprised. From now on I'll write more often. At least once a week.

Well Jack there really ^{isn't} much to write about. Mom told you just about everything. We are all fairly well. Joe is a lot better although he's still at home & can't go out or to work yet.

The weather here is swell today. Cold but bright & sunny.

Here it is the 9th of December already and Christmas will be here before we know it.

Incidentally what would you like for Christmas Jack? You say you bought yourself toilet articles + so I suppose you have enough in that line or haven't you? How about letting me know SOON,

'cause there arnt many more shopping days left and I would like to get you something you like. So answer pronto.

Well Jack, guess I'll say goodbye for now. I get this letter in the early mail. - I'll write again soon.

Love
Jose
Sister

P.S. Jack if you'd like the paper sent to you I will do that but Your Sister has a more permanent address O.K?
