Dear Anna,

So Glad you saw your husband again. I can just see you when he walked in the door.

Well I'll tell you how mother is, which isn't going to be very good news. She only stayed in the hospital two days. Her kidneys aren't working so we took her there too see whether she could be tapped. She's home now. She's so terribly weak. she can't even feed herself anymore. Its been so terribly hot these ~~last~~ few days. I was scrubbing the kitchen floor today when I heard sort of a moan or cry. I ran into the bedroom and mother grabbed my hands and said she didn't want to die yet & leave us all. Then she got so weak she couldn't talk and she could hardly breathe. So I told Laurie to ~~watch~~ watch her. I called dad & told him to come home & stay & get the doctor. I rubbed her hands & legs and put cold packs on her head. and washed her face and hands with cold water. That helped her to breathe easier. The doctor give her a sedative to make her heart beat easier.

She ~~can~~^{eat} some ice cream & warm milk then she sank into a sort of Comma. We keep ice packs on her head & arms then she came out of it again in about fifteen minutes. She's so terribly weak now. It's been getting worse every day.

My husband thinks he may be sent across some so he wants me to come down to see him before he goes. I don't know what to do. I want to go & I want to be here.

IT

Mother wants me to so I'll close.
