President's Message

As we move into the 'meat' of our year I take this opportunity to again thank all of you for adjusting to these unique conditions. And while we all try to make the best of it, it is important to keep our goals for this club in mind.

We are planning many things for this year and we will look to our membership now more than ever to step up and take part. I thank you in advance for your contributions and look forward to any and all new ideas for our programs and our fund raising. Make your voice heard so we can all make the community a better place to live.

Lincoln in the Bardo
by George Saunders
October 28 ~ 4:00 PM

February 1862. The Civil War is less than one year old. The fighting has begun in earnest, and the nation has begun to realize it is in for a long, bloody struggle. Meanwhile, President Lincoln's beloved eleven-year-old son, Willie, lies upstairs in the White House, gravely ill. In a matter of days, despite predictions of a recovery, Willie dies and is laid to rest in a Georgetown cemetery. Lincoln in the Bardo is an astonishing feat of imagination and a bold step forward from one of the most important and influential writers of his generation. : How do we live and love when we know that everything we love must end?
