

<https://civiconlineresourcecommunity.org>

Civics is KNOWLEDGE + ACTIVE CITIZENSHIP = POWER

We launched Civics Online Resource Community \(C.O.R.C.\) March 2018, and there's so much to see, so much to learn or relearn, to discuss and share with your fellow citizens. Our aim with this site is to reintroduce visitors to Civics, to help citizens become better informed about how government work, to hold government accountable when it's not working as it should, to encourage community involvement, and inspire citizens to commit to voting as an act of duty.

Though members of the community and visitors to the site have their own specific political views, C.O.R.C. is not affiliated with any political candidate or party nor will we, on this site, endorse or promote any political candidate or party.

Please excuse any hiccups you might encounter and report site problems to us. The original site design will look a slight different on your Smartphone (landscape captures it better) than it does on your tablet or computer. So, take your time, look around, read "About C.O.R.C.", explore "C.O.R.C. Content", and contact C.O.R.C. to let us know what you think.

We welcome your feedback, and we hope you'll join the community of civic-minded citizens.

Follow C.O.R.C. on social media. LIKE US on Facebook.

