

Creating a Community Where Everyone Belongs...

is the vision behind the Fort Collins Hispanic Mural Project. We firmly believe that by a community working together over time, we can move toward equity. Together, we hope to create a where everyone belongs.

Sponsored by Mujeres de Colores, their dream is to create a vibrant, larger-than-life mural on the wall of one of Fort Collins' iconic Mexican restaurants, Los Tarascos, celebrating the Hispanic/Mexican community. They hope the scenes in the Fort Collins Hispanic Mural Project will encourage conversation and spark curiosity about Hispanic/Mexican cultural heritage and the part it plays in the larger community. That it might provide an opportunity to celebrate the diversity of Hispanic culture, at the same time instilling pride, belonging, interaction, and human connection within the community.,

Para Mi Familia

"Reminds us to be proud of who we are and what we represent. Whether we honor those who come before us or lay the foundation for those after us, we do it Para Mi Familia."

Armando Silva, artist

Para Mi Familia is an invitation for the viewer to engage with the mural on a personal level. It is meant to provoke an intimate feeling with those that dare to dream big, sacrifice and work hard for their families. This is a concept that is universal to the human experience, but the placement of the phrase at Los Tarascos acts as an introduction to a specific story. Familia is who we choose to stand next to and love throughout good times and hardships. Para Mi Familia also asks us to think about our ancestors and our future gente. This is an ofrenda to our community, to our familia. Let this mural be a check point in time and a reminder of why we do what we do.
