

"I am really amazed by the collective knowledge. It makes me wish I had more time to talk shop with teachers."

"Great discussions and sharing ideas. Everyone was happy to share and receive new ideas, share resources, give suggestions, feedback, etc."

"Hearing from the others helps me see how far I have to go. Teachers of the Year, amazing lesson planners, I am so blessed to be surrounded by so many awesome educators."

"I learned that the expectation is that I'm looking to increase success without the fear of failing."

"I am having a wonderful time bouncing ideas off each other. I think we have a wonderful group. Everyone brings something to the table that is useful for me."

"It left me thinking about opening up to thinking outside the box."

"I feel like the small group format allows us to talk more openly with one another, which makes the discussions feel more personal and engaging. It has also been helpful to realize that others are experiencing the same challenges. Being able to make those connections with educators outside of my own school or district has been especially valuable."

"When I had my own children at home, I participated in an every-other-week moms' night out where a group of us would get together to talk, encourage one another, and offer support. Tonight felt so similar to that...and I absolutely love it."
