

Once Upon a Time...

There was a royal kingdom ruled by King Eric and Queen Ariel. They had a beautiful daughter, Princess Melody. King Eric was very busy running the kingdom and Queen Ariel was equally busy doing community outreach with the kingdom's citizens. Princess Melody was a very talented dancer and swimmer. She has many practices every week and competitions every weekend.

King Eric and Queen Ariel loved their very busy life but found it hard to focus on what really mattered - spending time with Melody, going to her practices and competitions and spending time on themselves. Instead, they spent all their time outside of work on chores around the castle. It was a never ending list of dishes to do, ballgowns to wash, stained glass windows to wipe down and dragons to clean up after. They were exhausted!

One day, Queen Ariel discovered Bespoke Home Life. They came to the castle and took all those chores off their shoulders. Queen Ariel gave them a list of castle tasks and just like that - they were done! No more stress. King Eric and Queen Ariel could focus on what really matters - making time for their family and themselves. Bespoke Home Life made sure they lived

Happily Ever After
