Presidents Corner:

September was by in a flash. We had a great Celebration of POW/MIA Day at the USS Battleship Alabama with our Candle Light Ceremony. The breeze kept blowing out our candles, so we used our cell phone. COL (R) Steve Carey did a great job highlighting the importance of the Day to him and his family (his uncle is a MIA today), and how we should emphasize the day to the youth of our nation. We had a dynamite meeting on 20 Sept with great attendance (48) and great speakers. CAPT Chris Husler, Commander USCG ATC, gave a great picture of the USCG and the ATC. Mayor Mike Dow, CEO Oscity, gave us valuable insight to CBD in enhancing Health & Wellness of our Vets. We hope our program/meetings are energizing and informative, and meeting your expectations. If there is more you would like to hear, please let us know. Hope to see you on 18 Oct at Saucy-Q's."

Lou Lartigue, President USA LTC (Ret)

Chaplains Corner:

Good Morning!

It's behave yourself Thursday;

Read 1 Samuel 18:14

"And David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the Lord was with him."

We, as believers of Jesus Christ, have a standard and a responsibility to uphold. It is simply the way we behave. The Lord God Almighty is watching and observing our behavior, as well as the world, our families, our Veterans, our friends, our coworkers, neighbors, and people who don't even know us. So make a conscious effort to behave wisely in the sight of God and man.

In Jesus' Name, Amen!

What is Veterans Day celebrated for?

Veterans Day has its origins at the end of World War I when at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918, the fighting ended with the signing of an armistice. U.S. Soldiers celebrate the armistice that ended World War I, Nov. 11, 1918.

HOW TO PROPERLY DISPLAY MILITARY BRANCH FLAGS

Just as the U.S. military forces conduct themselves in an orderly fashion, so too does a military flag display follow a strict set of rules and order. When flags from each military branch are carried in a horizontal line formation during a parade or flown from a five-flagpole display, the flags must be flown in a certain order. The proper military flag order was prescribed on October 31, 1977, by the U.S. Department of Defense Directive 1005.8.

The Directive's prescribed flag-flying order mirrors the order in which each military branch was created, with the lone exception of the Coast Guard. While the Coast Guard is technically the fourth oldest military service branch, with its origins pre-dating that of the Air Force by 157 years, the Coast Guard is excluded from this date-of-origin or "birthday" rule. This exception is due to the fact that during peacetime, the Coast Guard falls under the auspices of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security rather than the Department of Defense. During times of war, the Coast Guard typically shifts its reporting structure from the Department of Homeland Security to the Department of Defense. When this transition occurs, so does the prescribed placement order of the Coast Guard flag. During wartime, the Coast Guard flag must be moved from the farthest right position to second from the right, between the Navy flag and the Air Force flag.

With the addition of the Space Force military branch and flag, there has been some confusion in the direction from the military about the placement of the new Space Force flag. On August 18, 2020, Air Force Instruction 34-1201 documentation stated, "2.22.6 When displayed with departmental flags of other United States military services, precedence is as follows: Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard and Space Force." Yet, in official Space Force event photos and at national events, such as the Super Bowl, the Space Force flag was placed between the Air Force and the Coast Guard flags in their military flag displays.

Adding Other Flags into the Display Mix

When military branch flags are flown in conjunction with the American flag and/or a state flag, the prescribed peacetime flag order is, from left to right: U.S. flag, State flag, Army flag, Marine Corps flag, Navy flag, Air Force flag, Space Force flag and Coast Guard flag. During wartime, the Coast Guard flag should be moved between the Navy and Air Force flags. When the POW/MIA flag is added to the display mix, it should be flown to the right of either the U.S. flag and/or a state flag and to the left of the flags of the U.S. military branches

WITH THE FLAGS OF OTHER NATIONS: Each flag should be the same size and displayed at the same height. It is inappropriate to display one country's flag above another.
*The Space Force flag pictured above is the official military flag design and may only be sold to customers with a website ending in .gov or .mil according to the licensed manufacturer.
A different Space Force flag design is available to be sold to consumers. See photo and item number below if you would like to order one today.

How to Properly Display Military Branch Flags | Carrot-Top Industries

Before 1956, the U.S. Army was the only branch of the Armed Services without a flag to represent it as a unit in joint service ceremonies. Based on this need, several designs were developed, and the Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker selected the design as you see it today. The U.S. Army flag was officially adopted by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956. With a white background and a blue rendering of the official seal of the U.S. Army, this military flag is classic and recognizable. The seal on the U.S. Army flag goes back to the American Revolution, when it was used to authenticate documents from what was then called the War Office. It bears the year of the Army's establishment in 1775 and a rattlesnake (hearkening back to the "Don't Tread on Me" rattlesnake) holding a scroll with the words "This We'll Defend" in its mouth. Also included in the seal are a Revolutionary War American Flag, a Roman cuirass, a musket, a cannon, a snare drum, mortar and two bomb shells. The US Army flag is to be displayed first of the American Services Flags in honor of the Army's precedence in creation (it was the first service branch created by the United States Government).

As a bit of related military branch trivia, below are the birthdays of each U.S. military branch:

- Army Birthday: June 14, 1775
- Marine Corps Birthday: November 10, 1775
- Navy Birthday: October 13, 1775
- Air Force Birthday: September 18, 1947
- Coast Guard Birthday: August 4, 1790

Col Steve Carey USA (Ret)

Honored to speak on POW/MIA Remembrance Day at the POW MIA Candlelight Ceremony, USS Alabama Battleship and share the story about my Uncle Jim who was a young Lieutenant and F-86 pilot in the Korean War. He was flying combat missions with the Fighting Eagles and found out that he just had a baby boy -- he was a proud Father! Then a few days later he was in a dogfight chasing a MiG into the clouds over north Korea. There was no radio call, no fireball and Uncle Jim was never seen again. He never had a chance to hold his newborn son or kiss his wife goodbye. Uncle Jim is still listed as an MIA and we've lived with his loss for over 70 years. My brother and I are part of a national POW MIA organization who are doggedly searching for America's lost soldiers, sailors and airmen. Beyond a powerful ceremony like last Friday, I want all of Americans to remember that ever soldier who does not come home is part of "your" family. Someday I pray that Uncle Jim can lay down with his wife and son...

We Honor Veterans

We Honor Veterans, a program of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization (NHPCO) in collaboration with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), invites hospices, state hospice organizations, Hospice-Veteran Partnerships and VA facilities to join a pioneering program focused on respectful inquiry, compassionate listening and grateful acknowledgment. By recognizing the unique needs of America's Veterans and their families, community providers, in partnership with VA staff, will learn how to accompany and guide them through their life stories toward a more peaceful ending.

We Honor Veterans recognizes the unique needs of America's Veterans and their families.

We empower hospices and community organizations to meet the unique needs of America's Veterans and their families by offering guidance and resources focused on respectful inquiry, compassionate listening, and grateful acknowledgment so that Veterans can be guided toward a more peaceful ending. Join us in serving those who have served us.

About - We Honor Veterans

The goal of the We Honor Veterans program is simple – to care for and honor those who have served when they reach the end of life.

KAH-Mobile is proud to participate in the We Honor Veterans program. Our ability to succeed as a participant depends on each of us to understand and support We Honor Veterans.

We Honor Veterans (www.WeHonorVeterans.org) is a national hospice provider awareness campaign conducted by the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization (NHPCO) in collaboration with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). NHPCO is actively supporting the campaign and providing resources for hospices to participate because:

Of 2.4 million deaths in the United States each year, approximately 680,000 are Veterans. A vast majority of Veterans are not enrolled in VA and may not be aware of end-of-life services and benefits available to them, including the Medicare Hospice Benefit and VA-paid hospice care. Community hospices can join other hospice providers across the country in honoring our Nation's Veterans and be listed on the We Honor Veterans website.

As a We Honor Veterans Partner, we will be better prepared to:

- Build professional and organizational capacity to provide quality care for Veterans
- Develop and/or strengthen partnerships with VA and other Veteran organizations
- Increase access to hospice and palliative care for Veterans living in their community
- Network with other hospices across the country to learn about best practice models

How is this accomplished?

This goal is reached through the following things that WE will do:

- Promote Veteran-centric educational activities
- Increase organizational capacity to serve Veterans
- Support development of strategic partnerships
- Increase access and improve quality

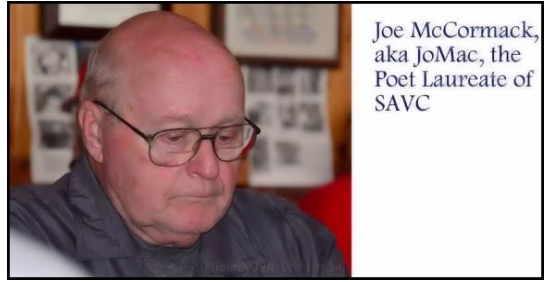

How can you help?

Share your time by joining our Volunteer Program.

Veterans and others who are connected to the Veteran experience are uniquely qualified to assist in sharing their time and talents to volunteer with our service connected patients. As a part of this program our volunteers can provide:

- | | |
|---------------|------------------------|
| Companionship | Emotional support |
| Socialization | Respite for caregivers |

These volunteers can be utilized for Veteran related ceremonies and to help educate our teams on military culture and specific end-of-life issues that may be encountered when caring for our nation's heroes.

SAVC

After months of calling and searching by friends, and members of the SAVC, Carol Martin, with American Legion post 222 located our SAVC Poet.

Unfortunately, Joe Mc passed away on Christmas Eve, 2020, he is missed but not forgotten. The South Alabama Veterans Council will remember him through his poems.

Obituary:

Joseph Myles McCormack

OCTOBER 17, 1940 – DECEMBER 25, 2020

Joe, 80, passed away on Friday, December 25, 2020 at his nephew's home in Charlotte, NC.

He was with his nephew and was under the care of hospice. Born October 17th, 1940, he was the son of the late James McCormack, Sr. and Una McAuley

McCormack. Joe graduated from Northeast Catholic high school in Philadelphia and served 20 years in the Air Force, including 10 months in Vietnam.

After leaving the Air Force, Joe became the Marshall for the town of Blue River, CO until 1986. After developing health problems, Joe moved to Pensacola, Florida, where he worked for Barrancas National Cemetery until he retired. Joe was a devout catholic and was a very involved member of Cathedral of the Sacred Heart church in Pensacola, Florida.

Joe loved his large family, including his brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews. He is survived by his sister Margaret "Peg" Bouchey and many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased in death, by his brothers; George McCormack, David McCormack, James McCormack, Jr. and his sister Mary McCormack Haney. He was interred at Holy Cross Cemetery, Pensacola, FL.

Day of the Deployed

Day of the Deployed is a day to honor our deployed troops and their families for their bravery and the sacrifices they are making for our country. Supporters of the military are urged to get personally involved in activities that send care packages, offer messages of encouragement, and other morale-boosting activities to those currently deployed overseas and the military families of the deployed.

Day of the Deployed will be observed on Wednesday, Oct. 26, 2022.

History of Day Of The Deployed

In 2006, then-governor of North Dakota John Hoeven was approached by a constituent, Shelle Michaels Aberle, to have a day that honored the deployed. The inspiration was her cousin, LTC David Hosna, who at the time was deployed to Iraq. Former Governor John Hoeven initiated a move for a State of North Dakota proclamation that Oct. 26th, David Hosna's birthday, would be recognized as Day Of The Deployed. Following that state recognition, the first-ever Day Of The Deployed event was held in Grand Forks, North Dakota, (the home of Grand Forks Air Force Base) honoring local units deployed to Afghanistan.

Only four years went by before most states had some form of recognition of the holiday. While Day Of The Deployed is not treated like a state holiday with facility closures and time off from work, it is celebrated much in the same fashion as POW/MIA Day, with ceremonies by private and public institutions to honor those in uniform. Today, all 50 states recognize Oct. 26 in some fashion.
