Helen Fernald is a grief recovery author who teaches the therapeutic art of letter writing as a way to not only find peace and renewed hope but also a loving connection after loss. After losing her mother suddenly when Helen was only forty, she felt heartbroken. Then she began writing to her mother. By befriending her own grief, she was able to reconnect with her mother in a deep and loving way.

“Love, Helen: Letters to My Mother: Creating a Loving Connection after Loss”

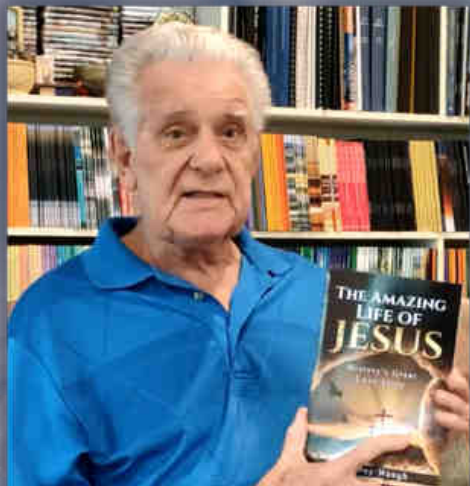

Love, Helen is the story of Helen’s journey while slowly cleaning out the closet of her heart following the death of her beloved mother. She wasn’t prepared to lose her. She did the only thing she knew how to do. She kept busy, swallowing every feeling. Then she ended up in the hospital and was forced to stop. While recovering, she began to write these letters. Her heart broke wide open; the flood of blocked emotions poured out. Finally Helen was able to accept her mother’s death. It is her deepest hope these letters will bring a sense of peace to the reader.

Rev. Dr. Geoffrey Waugh is the founding editor of the Renewal Journal (with free eBooks on renewaljournal.com) and an Australian author of books and eBooks on Christian ministry and mission. Father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, he taught in Bible Schools and colleges in Australia, Papua New Guinea, the South Pacific, and in short-term missions in twenty countries.

A brief biography of a controversial hero, Jesus, the Messiah (Christ), focusing on his life and ministry around three Passover Festivals. He became famous for loving and helping people, especially the outcasts and ignored ones like half-casts, prostitutes, cheats, and sinners. Why would such a popular young leader create both loyal followers and intense opposition that led to his brutal torture and public execution? His life story is now the world's best seller, translated into over 1400 different languages. We date our diaries and calendars from the time of his birth, celebrated globally every Christmas.

The same book with two titles is The Amazing Life of Jesus and The Life of Jesus, a Maincrest Media Award Winner.

Kelli Christina - Top Female Healthcare Executive - Healthcare Leadership Awards

As a woman in today's world, Kelli Christina attributes her success to her challenging work, education and determination. With 24 years of specialized medical recruiting experience and 10 years in business management, she is currently the CEO, owner, and director of recruiting for KD-Staffing. Ms. Christina created KD-Staffing on the idea that "recruiting is an art." She has perfected her skills in this "art" through a number of managerial and leadership positions since the start of her career; she became a restaurant manager and a boss at nineteen years old.

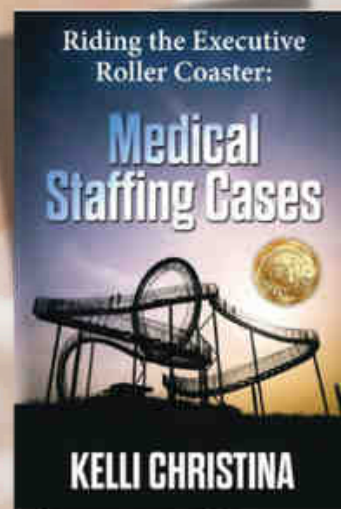

Before she started a career in recruiting, Ms. Christina obtained a bachelor's degree in business, hotel, and restaurant management from the University of North Texas. With 30 years of career experience, her advice to younger generations of women entering the workforce is to remember the importance of education. She also advises them to be strong-willed and to never give up.

Kelli Christina is a CEO, best-selling author, public speaker and business coach current day. Ms. Christina has worked part time government projects for ten years. She loves "making a difference" in today's world. Her branding revolves around "Business, Sales and Awards, setting your people for success and helping out your communities including service work."

"Riding The Executive Roller Coaster: Medical Staffing Cases"

A legal thriller that delves into the complexities and challenges within the medical staffing industry. Drawing from real-life events, the narrative follows a woman's journey from reaching the pinnacle of success to facing unforeseen legal battles due to unawareness of employment laws, losing everything and becoming homeless and her subsequent efforts to rebuild her career and company in the later chapters.

Dennis L. Ricotta Came to Southern California in 1951. He had a varied occupational history before finding his calling as a music editor in the motion picture industry where he participated or facilitated in studio Bible studies. As a private pilot, he promotes the Christian lifestyle as a member of Pilots for Christ. Now retired, he also partakes in several Bible study groups including Life groups in his home.

Dennis has two sons and six grandchildren. He lives with his wife, Janice, in La Quinta, California.

“Crown of Thorns”

This is the story of a Roman soldier ordered to perform a duty that will change his life forever. Marcel is directed to find a form of torture for a man on trial who calls himself a king. So he conceives the idea of a crown made of thorns.

Though this pleases his commander, as Marcel places the crown on the prisoners head, he unexpectedly suffers his own sudden torture when a thorn pierces his finger. In pain and bloody agony, he looks into the eyes of Jesus yet sees only love. How can love come from such a vicious act? In his quest to learn all he can about this man, Marcel encounters many people, some devoted followers of Jesus and some who mock and detest Him. He also experiences his own miracles.

One person who will help him on his journey to understand this king is his loving wife Delicia. She will both challenge and comfort him as he struggles with the many questions he strives to answer. Yet in the end, he will have to make a life-or-death decision.

Marlene Burling

Marlene Burling is a widow, a resident of Batavia, NY. She was a pastor's wife, married for 51 years, has 3 children, 10 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Besides "Breaking Through the Clouds," she has written "Grandma, Tell Me the Easter Story," two 365-day devotionals: "A Morning Walk with God," and "Daily Walks with God." She writes a weekly blog on Monday mornings on her website (marleneburling.com) and on face book. She has developed a workshop for widows, "There's Life after Loss," and is co-leader of "Grief Share," at her church, Grace Baptist Church, in Batavia NY.

"Breaking Through the Clouds"

Marlene's desire for her book, "Breaking Through the Clouds" is to share her story and let her readers see how God worked in her life and how He can do the same for them. From all she has learned after many years of walking in the Christian faith through devastating losses, grief, heartaches, and disappointments she hopes to help others overcome life's obstacles through trust in God.

This volume is an inspirational work intended to guide readers both to and in the Christian faith.

My first job was teaching students with learning disabilities. This experience is where my passion for teaching children to read was born. After raising my three children, I went back to work to continue teaching children how to read for seventeen years.

I developed a passion to help as many children learn to read as I could, so they would have a fair chance at life. In writing children's books that encourage children to be brave in the face of their common childhood fears, I hope to continue helping children to experience the world through a love of reading.

"What Should Cookie Do? Thunderstorms"

Cookie is afraid of thunder! Her mom and dad tell her ways that she can be brave during storms. She tries them out, and soon she realizes that being brave actually works! I bet your little person will become brave if they try them too... ; The dark can be very scary! Cookie is afraid of the dark, too! Thankfully she remembers what her mom and dad told her about how to be brave. She gave it a try and it worked!!

Davida Coleman first stepped into the literary world with her debut book, As It Was in the Beginning, So Shall It Be in the End, seven years ago. An accomplished poet, artist, and community advocate, she is dedicated to uplifting and healing others.

Although born in New York, she now resides on the West Coast, where she serves her community by working with youth and leading Soul One, LLC, an organization focused on holistic healing in mind, body, and spirit. A devoted mother of three and a former foster parent, Coleman views her service to the community as a reflection of her faith and commitment to making a difference in the lives of others.

“What Does Your Heaven Look Like Vol #1 ”

Inspired by the global grief experienced during COVID-19, “What Does Your Heaven Look Like?” serves as a heartfelt tribute to those who transitioned alone, their loved ones unable to be by their side. Through a series of thought-provoking questions, Coleman encourages readers to ponder their own beliefs about the afterlife and their expectations of a final resting place.

This book is more than a meditation on loss—it is a call to honor those who have passed and to embrace the idea that every ending marks a new beginning. Coleman’s words remind us that no labor of love is ever in vain and that our departed loved ones continue to live on in memory and spirit.

Darlene grew up as a P.K. (Preacher's kid.) Her future plans did not include repeating what her childhood had been - moving frequently. God stepped in and changed her future. She met and fell in love with a young man planning on following in her father's footsteps - becoming a minister.

Besides being an author, Darlene is a living history performer. With the help of her characters from different time periods, she brings those characters to life. Presently, Darlene is writing the sequel to her first book, They Call Me Tess.

"They Call Me Tess"

This story is about an older woman, named Tess. She becomes homeless and ends up on the front lawn of a minister and his wife. She is skeptical about religion and finds the whole idea of Christianity boring. Over the course of three months, Tess learns that Christianity is more than going to church. Her story becomes a story of true redemption.

Mark K. Olsen was raised in a conservative Baptist home in Northern Minnesota. After graduating from the university with a Master's degree in English, he was drafted into the army and sent to Viet Nam. This experience propelled him into a deeper study of the secret teachings of Christ. He has been an educator and author in California for over fifty years, appearing numerous times on television and podcasts.

"The Layman's Guide to Experiences in God-Realization"

This memoir begins by discussing how to grow closer to Christ, by describing several mystical practices that are used by believers all over the world. Subsequently, it presents seventy spiritual experiences, from everyday miracles to out-of-body experiences, visions, and dreams. It presents the esoteric (hidden) view of spirituality, describing the growth of soul, salvation, the levels of heaven, and the eventual destiny of all souls. It is written in everyday English that makes deep concepts understandable, and is full of humor and the common problems that everyone faces in their spiritual journey.

He earned his PhD in Religion degree (with a minor in the Biblical Languages) from Baylor University, after graduating from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary with his Master of Divinity and Master of Arts in Religious Education. He obtained his bachelor's degrees in chemical engineering and mathematics from the University of Washington in Seattle, WA. He is also the pastor of Maranatha International Church in Houston.

"I Will Be With You: God's Favorite Promise"

God's promise of being with us should not be viewed as one pledge of many. Rather, it should be recognized as His favorite promise. God explicitly makes the promise to several individuals throughout the Bible—and Scripture reveals many examples of God being with an individual or demonstrating His presence. Referring to the promise as "a gem that has stayed hidden in plain sight," this author calls on readers to claim the promise for themselves. He notes that when God promises, "I will be with you," he means everyone, including the person you see when you look in the mirror.

While with Publish Wholesale, Toth was singled out by client service managers as one of their favorite authors of all time over thousands of other authors. For the past four decades, he participated in Course in Miracles groups in South Bend, Indianapolis Hammond and Fort Wayne. He also created a few spiritual support and meditation groups.

He attended several spiritual workshops, seminars, and emotional support groups and currently participates in a church prayer group. He has given talks, posted internet articles and videos and has been interviewed on radio and television and on a national podcast. He has participated in Spiritualist Healing, Chakra Balancing Healing, Healing Touch, Pilgrimage Healing and Reiki Healing modalities. In 2000 he co-founded Sacred Waters Spiritual Center and was the facilitator, director, and caretaker for a while helping people to further their awareness. Sacred Waters is still providing classes and seminars for the spiritual community.

"Seven Souls on a Cross"

Seven Souls on a Cross (Book 1) A Journey of Rage, Sacrifice, Forgiveness and Love In book one of The Cross Series, Paul Sentes loses his son to the Iraq War and his wife to suicide. In what way will he choose to cope? His consuming rage drives him to hang on a cross. He vows to stay on the cross until he attains peace or dies. Paul's controversial act grabs the media and the world's attention. Thousands travel daily to see him. They seek help, prayers, healing, and place mementos of love around him. Visiting him on the cross numerous times, five intense, angry souls become emotionally intimate with Paul.

The psychotic seventh soul is certain Paul is God's messenger. A twist of events causes him to believe Paul is the abominable Antichrist. He swears to destroy him and shoots him three times while he is on the cross thwarting Paul's reason for taking to the cross.

Michael Gloukhov

Michael Stoianov Gloukhov was born in June 1944 during the heaviest bombing of Sofia by the US Air Corps. His parents were forced to divorce because his father was an officer in the pre-communist Royal Army. Michael graduated in 1963 and was conscripted in the Bulgarian Army for two years. To avoid membership in the Communist party, he declined to go to Reserve Officer's School and went instead as a Private in the mechanized Infantry. Eventually, he escaped to Belgium, followed by his mother and little sister. He earned a degree in Political Science while he drove a taxicab and in the 1980s became an international radio broadcaster with the Bulgarian Service of the Voice of America.

Gloukhov joined the US Navy Reserve in 1987 at the age of 43, serving all over the world due to his unique, multifaceted background.

Sofia-Brussels-Washington: From Serfdom to Freedom to Self-Accomplishment: Finding the American Dream is a memoir of Michael Gloukhov's remarkable life from his war-torn youth to his thriving adulthood.

“Sofia-Brussels-Washington: From Serfdom to Freedom to Self-Accomplishment: Finding the American Dream”

It describes the Cold war misery in Bulgaria, the terror in the communist army and the counter-reaction, the escape to the West, life and success in Belgium, moving to the US and joining the Navy reserve. It is a political autobiography with educational character for readers of all ages.

A Reflective Journey of a Loved One's Passing by: CK Brashares

I remember coming home from a particularly tough day when mom was especially obstinate about whatever we were trying to do for her that day. I pulled into my driveway, turned off the truck, and just sat there for a few minutes leaning back in my seat with my head against the headrest. I let out a sigh as my gaze went to the sky. I was struck by how the sky felt expansive and peaceful yet how small I was in comparison. It struck me oddly that I felt this feeling and I wondered what it meant. Then the epiphany hit me. Since the day I had found out my mother's days were numbered, I gradually diminished, day by day, becoming more compact/emotionally shut down to get through this period. I realized that I could no longer diminish myself any further. The expansiveness of the sky highlighted for me my feeling of smallness. Also, I could no longer hide from the feelings that came with the eventuality of my mother's passing. I had to open and face those feelings and go through the pain of her loss.

What If? by: Loni Hunley

In this world, chaos certainly seems to reign. World events and news leave many of us anxious and searching for help to navigate it all and worrying about what it all means for the future. If this is you as well, the Lord has the answers you seek. Are you curious about the Bible and what it says?

Have you ever asked yourself, is the Bible really applicable to the world today? In What If? we will look at the possibility of what life could be like if we lived according to God's plan and directions for our lives. Come, join me on a journey of God's Word. Together, we will walk through "What if" questions and explore the answers that the Lord is eager to provide.

Put Your Hands into Hers: Mary, Our Life,
Our Sweetness, and Our Hope ... by: Father Ronald Ramson

In Put Your Hands into Hers, author Rev. Ronald Ramson, offers an in-depth look at Mary, the mother of Jesus, a woman who has exemplified a mother's love, hope, and inspiration. What is your relationship to Mary? Do you see her as your mother...as your queen? Jesus gave Mary to us as our spiritual mother from the wood of the cross. He said, "Here is your mother." (John 19:27). With snippets of Ramson's life included Put Your Hands into Hers offers interesting, informative, and inspirational insight into Mary's humanity and femininity.
