BIO

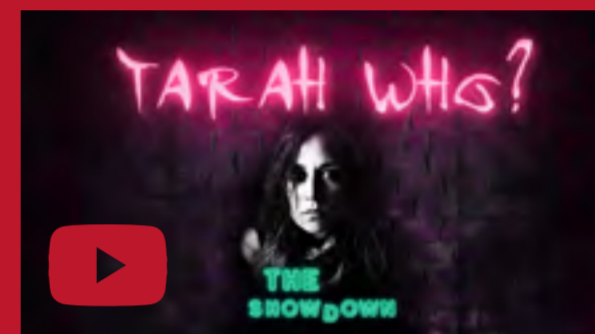

From their humble beginnings playing DIY shows and warehouses to now repping their sound at prestigious European festivals (Hellfest, Wheels & Waves Motorcycle Festival), Tarah Who? has been turning heads with their brand of high-octane grunge-punk. Equally as visceral as it is cathartic, their sound collides bold lyricism and relentless instrumentation, mirroring the spirit and attitude of Punk Rock.

Masterminded by Tarah Carpenter, her output has earned her feature-story coverage from Rolling Stone France, Voici, Tatuage Magazine, GIG Radar, Kill The Music, La Grosse Radio, Loud Stuff, Moshville, Music Connection, Muzak, and The Ring Master, among other outlets.

Alongside producers Jason Orme (Alanis Morissette) and Norm Block (L7), she is currently gearing up to release their brand new full-length album, titled, 'The Collaboration Project.' Head to <https://tarahwho.com/> for more info.

PETER GLEESON - ORIGINAL ROCK.NET

Punk with intelligence, thought, and feeling behind the songs, and some very un-punk production values and musicianship!

TRACEY MOYLE - PUNKTUATION MAG.

Punk rock is an ever-evolving genre, not only in its sound but also in its attitude and courage to say what needs to be said. In Tarah Who's case, they have oodles of attitude and, along with that, taken a fistful of grunge, laced in some heavy rock, injected punk energy and added some emotionally powerful lyrics – all ingredients that have made Tarah Who one of L.A.'s hottest new bands shaking up the scene.

LLY WHITE - HEAVY SOUNDS.
