

Like

Everyday Face Reading

REVEALING THE VALUE OF EVERY FACE

February 2018

I was absolutely thrilled to be interviewed by local journalist, Margaret Carey, for HamletHub.com. Please check out the link below, where I talk about why I started reading faces and how this work can help you!

HamletHub Interview

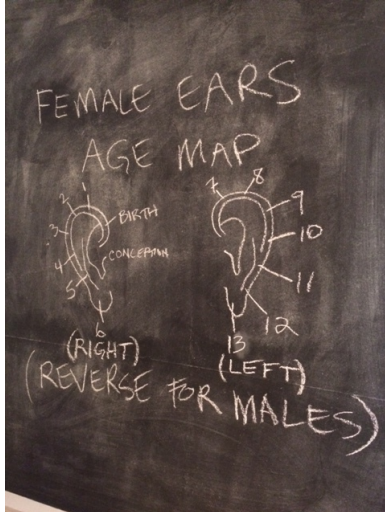

Face Mapping

Oftentimes in my work, people are surprised by just how much someone's face can reveal. In fact, when I do a face reading, there are over 120 different facial features that I look for and analyze. This picture is a great graphic representation of just a few of the meanings that can be deciphered on the face: work style, stamina level, how one views money, etc. So many aspects about someone's personality and behavioral patterns are right out there for the world to see--if one has studied face reading!

But, our emotional outlook and personalities aren't the only things that our faces can keep a record of. Every area of the face corresponds to a certain time in our lives--from conception, all the way through to old age. If there are noticeable markings, lines, distortions in a certain area, it is very telling about that corresponding time of our lives. Some of my favorite features to read and teach about are ears. Your entire childhood is captured there. As you can see from my illustration, each year of childhood is represented at a distinct point on the ear rim--and this never ceases to amaze me. I've had clients that were awed when I asked them if something transformative or traumatic happened for them at a specific age in childhood. They always say "how did you know?!". It truly is a privilege and an honor to help people navigate their personal histories and dispositions--and I am continuously fascinated and humbled by this work.

If you, or someone you know, would like to have their face read, please visit my website, www.everydayfacereading.com and book a face reading.

Face Reading Parties!

Are you interested in hosting a memorable party for your friends, family, and/or co-workers? I love bringing this work to groups of people in a lively atmosphere. For the price of $10 per person, I give a short presentation about the key concepts of face reading, and then I do mini-sessions for each participant. Every person leaves with a hand-written card detailing their five most prominent facial features and their meanings. This makes for a wonderful keepsake of a memorable, meaningful, and fun experience. I live in Putnam County, NY and am willing to travel throughout Putnam, Westchester, and Dutchess counties in NY and Fairfield County in CT. Please contact me for more information at elaine@everydayfacereading.com

February Promotion

To celebrate Valentine's Day, throughout the month of February we are having a 20% sale. Book your full face reading today for the bargain price of $40 at www.everydayfacereading.com! Readings also make wonderful gifts!

Elaine Gartner is a certified face reader and has studied physiognomy, both Eastern and Western, for over fifteen years. Please visit www.everydayfacereading.com to learn more.*

©2018 Everyday Face Reading | P.O. Box 242, North Salem, NY 10560

Web Version

Forward

Unsubscribe

Powered by GoDaddy Email Marketing®